The Bowl Alliance

Following the 1995 season, a new system is in place to determine the postseason bowl game matchups. The system will provide for the best possible pairings, and guarantees a national championship game if the No. 1 or No. 2 teams are not from the Big Ten or Pacific Ten conferences. Conference commissioners negotiated a six-year deal, which will encompass the 1995 through 2000 seasons, with a majority vote needed to get out of the agreement (and only after three years).

The Alliance consists of the Fiesta, Orange and Sugar bowls. They will have their pick (on a rotating annual basis) of the top two schools available from conferences participating in the Alliance. For the 1995 bowl season, the Fiesta gets the first two picks, with the Orange picking third and fifth and the Sugar fourth and sixth. The Alliance will be fed from the following pool:

Atlantic Coast Conference champion
Big East Conference champion
Big Eight (12) Conference champion
Southeastern Conference champion
Two At-Large teams (NOTE: In 1995, the Southwest Conference champion will occupy one of these positions.)

Basically all bowl-eligible schools qualify for the at-large positions; the only schools which won't figure in are the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions, as they have a contractual obligation to play in the Rose Bowl through New Year's Day, 2001.

Conference Bowl Agreements: Here's a look at where conference teams are contractually bound to play in the postseason. An agreement is in place, however, for the Alliance to select a second team from any of these conferences, the WAC champion (if it figures in the national championship picture), or Notre Dame; if a second team is selected from a conference, then that league will have one more team for the bowls than listed below (second team shifts to third team status, etc.):

Big Eight/Twelve: Champion (Fiesta, Orange or Sugar), Second Team (Cotton), Third Team (Holiday), Fourth Team (Alamo), Fifth Team (Aloha), Sixth Team (Copper). NOTE: In 1995, these bowls have their pick among Big Eight and Southwest Conference teams.

Atlantic Coast: Champion (Fiesta, Orange or Sugar), Second Team (Gator), Third Team (Peach), Fourth Team (Carquest).

Big East: Champion (Fiesta, Orange or Sugar), Second Team (Gator), Third Team (Carquest).

Big Ten: Champion (Rose), Second Team (Citrus), Third Team (Outback), Fourth Team (Alamo), Fifth Team (Sun).

Pac Ten: Champion (Rose), Second Team (Cotton or Holiday), Third Team (Sun), Fourth Team (Aloha), Fifth Team (Freedom).

Southeastern: Champion (Fiesta, Orange or Sugar), Second Team (Citrus), Third Team (Outback), Fourth Team (Peach).

Western Athletic: Champion (Cotton or Holiday), Second Team (Copper), Third Team (Freedom).

Notre Dame: Alliance (if it qualifies).

The champions of the Big West and Mid-American conferences meet in the Las Vegas Bowl. Bowls with no contractual obligations to any team or conference are the Independence and the Liberty. A new bowl, in Australia or New Zealand, is petitioning to begin following the 1996 season.

In 1996, the Sugar Bowl will select first and second, followed by the Fiesta (third and fifth) and the Orange (fourth and sixth); in 1997, the Orange picks first, followed by the Sugar and then the Fiesta.

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

A brief history of 119 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state. The doors of Old Main opened the following year with 44 students, an instructor, and the president who taught and lived there with his family, pasturing his horse nearby.

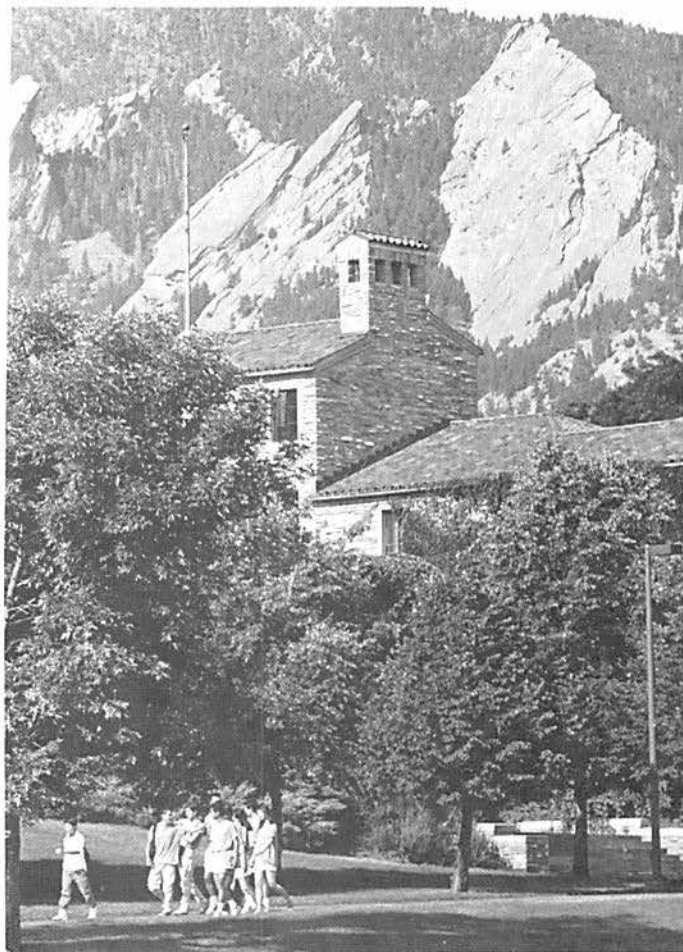

Here at the foot of the Flatirons, the distinguished faculty and students from a variety of backgrounds work together to create a lively academic environment. CU-Boulder's challenging academic programs, inspiring natural setting, and acclaimed architecture attract about 25,000 students from this country and around the globe. Another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver, the University of Colorado at Denver and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. The four-campus system is led by the President and nine elected Regents, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer.

The University System, and especially the flagship institution in Boulder, has played a key role in the economic development of the state and the Rocky Mountain region. CU ranks 10th among all public institutions in federally sponsored research and 18th among the top 100 public universities and colleges in overall research expenditures. Many of the high-tech companies located along the Front Range owe their origins to CU-Boulder's cutting-edge science.

CU has shown that RNA can act as a catalyst in biochemical reactions, developed the first classification system of human chromosomes, created the first national model to assess child development, successfully completed the first instance of human cloning, identified the battered child syndrome, discovered the process of aging is under direct genetic control, developed ways of dealing with natural hazards, created the coldest temperature on Earth, and alerted the nation to heightened academic pressures on kindergarten children.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 15 men and women who became astronauts. CU-Boulder is the only university where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions.

Teaching, research, and creative work are closely linked, providing students with a broad range of experiences in classrooms, laboratories, seminars, field work, and study abroad opportunities. Some programs provide off-campus internships for on-the-job learning while others require a commitment by students to public service. For those whose interests cross traditional lines, a number of interdisciplinary programs are available.

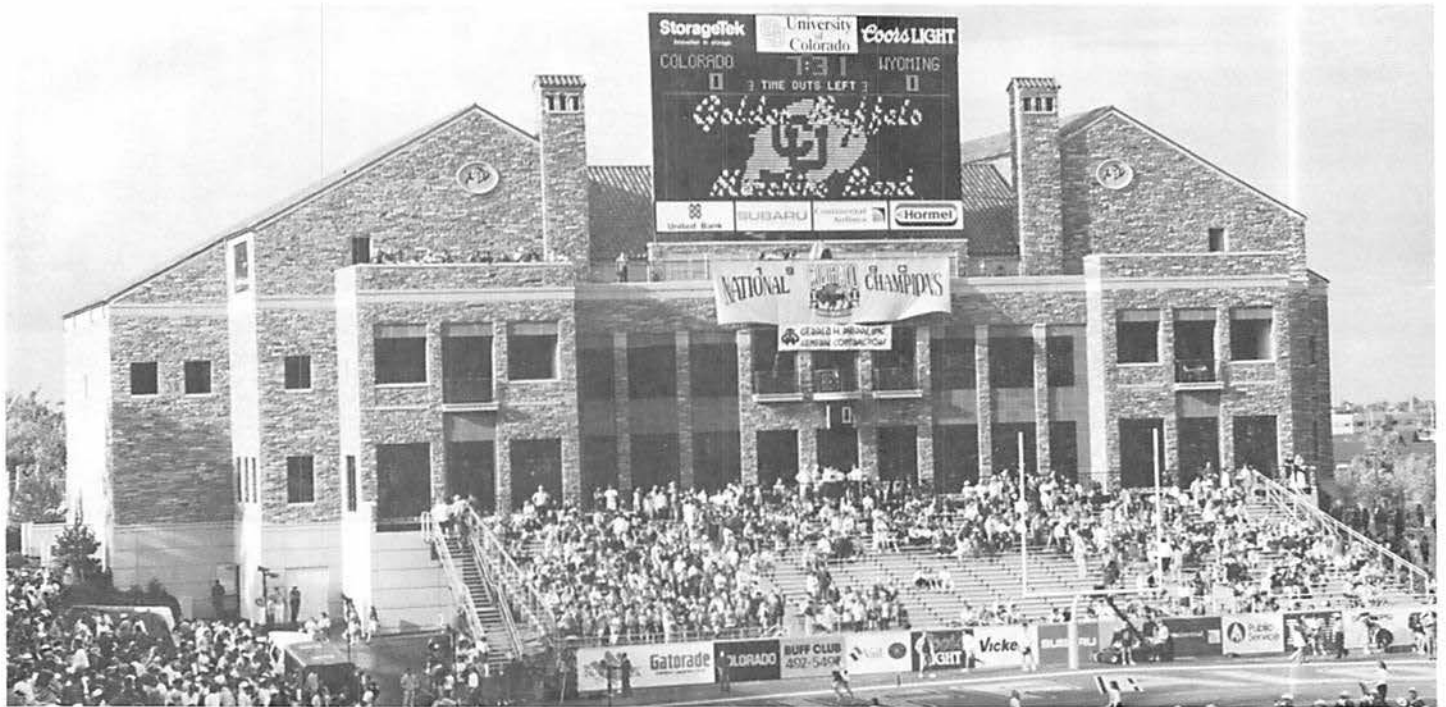

Visitors can experience the University's cosmopolitan atmosphere by visiting Fiske Planetarium, Sommers-Bausch Observatory, the Heritage Center in the original Old Main, the University of Colorado Museum, and Norlin Library. Lively performances are staged by the Artist Series, Department of Theatre and Dance, and the College of Music, and movie fans can relax with classic, contemporary, and avant garde films.

At CU-Boulder, the students and faculty recognize the mind-body connection, taking advantage of Boulder's foothills location to participate year-round in recreational and sports activities. In addition to intercollegiate programs for men and women, the Student Recreation Center offers clubs and intramural sports in one of the finest college recreational facilities in the nation.

From the baccalaureate to the post-doctoral degree, CU-Boulder is distinguished by the broad scope of its programs and courses, the outstanding reputation of its research facilities, the diversity of its student body, and the professionalism and dedication of its faculty.

THE DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season is landmark for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th), and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December, 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes a massive academic center, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and daily dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's lockerrooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, which made him the third-winningest coach in CU history at the time. His teams, noted for the single wing offense, were a constant threat to Oklahoma's supremacy in the Big Seven Conference.

The Nicholas R. Petry Auditorium

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU—Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italianate architecture were selected to complement the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

The Dal Ward Center allows CU athletics to provide a facility that is competitive with equivalent successful NCAA athletic programs. "We have built something that will truly give our athletes a chance to compete with the best," athletic director Bill Marolt said. "This is a modern facility where we can accommodate the needs of the athletes on and off the field," added football coach Rick Neuheisel.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Sink Combs Dethlefs of Denver, with construction performed by Gerald H. Phipps, Inc.

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has the most unique mascot in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie. The live buffalo mascot, actually "Ralphie III," has continued the tradition of leading the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half.

It is truly one of the special sights that exists anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver and Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, some students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf mascot along with a real cowboy as his keeper. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The campus newspaper announced the contest in the fall of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted Buffaloes as their entry. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

The first buffalo, "Mr. Chips," was eventually given to the University by Mahlon White. The buffalo was a regular at CU home games through the 1950's and was cared for by a men's honorary.

The CU football teams were without a mascot for several years before the original Ralphie made its first appearance at a CU function in 1966 (and as a six-month-old calf). For awhile, she was billed as Ralph, the name given by the student body. An astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a girl, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including bowl games), and retired at the end of the 1978 season.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on Sept. 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Colorado's latest mascot, Ralphie III, was pressed into action earlier than anticipated. She was being trained for the 1988 season as Ralphie II was to retire following the 1987 campaign. But Ralphie III, after only five weeks of training, made her debut, Nov. 7, 1987, at the CU-Missouri game. And like the original Ralphie, the Buffs welcomed her with a 27-10 victory.

Ralphie III is a 10-year-old buffalo, weighing about 1,300 pounds and is able to reach speeds of up to 25 miles per hour. An orphan, she was donated to the athletic department by John and Shaaron Parker, and is kept at the Parker Ranch (which was also the home of Ralphie II).

Millie Caraballo serves as Secretary of the University and the Board of Regents.

The Board governs all four campuses of the University of Colorado. It is charged constitutionally with the general supervision of the University and the exclusive control and direction of all funds of and appropriations to the University, unless otherwise provided by law.

A quick look at the nine current members of the Board of Regents:

PETER F. STEINHAUER, D.D.S.—Republican, Boulder oral surgeon; attended the University of Colorado at Boulder from 1954 to 1958; received his D.D.S. from the University of Missouri at Kansas City in 1962, and completed his residency in 1965. A United States Navy and Vietnam Veteran, he was elected in 1994 to a statewide seat for a six-year term, which will expire in 2000.

PRESIDENT JUDITH ALBINO

Dr. Judith E.N. Albino was named President of the University of Colorado on June 1, 1991, replacing Dr. William Baughn, who served as the four-campus system's president the previous year after the departure of Dr. Gordon Gee to Ohio State. Albino is the 17th president of CU and is the first woman to serve in the position.

Albino, 52, came to CU in 1990 as Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research, and Dean of the System Graduate School. She joined the university from the State University of New York (SUNY) at Buffalo, where she enjoyed an 18-year career.

She serves as chief executive officer of the four-campus organization, with three general campuses located in Boulder, Colorado Springs and Denver, and the Health Sciences Center (also in Denver). The University of Colorado is a public, comprehensive, doctoral degree-granting institution with a combined enrollment of over 43,000 students, a faculty and staff of 19,250 and an annual budget of $1 billion.

A graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, Albino earned a bachelor's degree in journalism in 1967 and a Ph.D. in education psychology in 1973. She joined SUNY-Buffalo in 1972 as a faculty member for the School of Dental Medicine. In 1978, her responsibilities included supervision of graduate students and administrative duties for the Department of Counseling and Psychology. She was appointed Associate Provost in 1984 and Interim Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning in 1987. She became Dean of the Graduate School in 1989.

For a time as Associate Provost at SUNY-Buffalo, she was responsible for the department of athletics, and directed the effort to upgrade Buffalo's 16 intercollegiate sports from Division III to Division I status in the NCAA. That transformation was complete last fall, as the school was granted Division I membership in all sports except football (which will do so in 1993).

Dr. Albino is currently a member of the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force, and is co-chair of the NCAA President's Commission Subcommittee on Gender Equity.

She served as a Fellow in Higher Education Administration for the American Council on Education in 1983-84. She also was named a Fellow for the World Health Organization Collaborating Center for Research on Health in Housing for 1988-90. She has also written numerous scholarly articles and monographs in her areas of specialty, dentistry and psychology.

Albino is a member-at-large on the board of directors for the American Association of Dental Research and served as president of the AADR Behavioral Sciences Group in 1983-84. She currently is treasurer and a member of the board of directors of the American Psychological Association.

Her first role at CU as vice president was as the chief academic officer representing the four CU campuses. In that position, she served as the primary liaison to the Colorado Commission on Higher Education, worked closely with the Board of Regents, and participated in activities that involved governmental and community relations. Her position also encompassed responsibility for development and implementation of all academic policies; long-range planning, including enrollment, human resources, funding and evaluation of academic programs; and development of research initiatives and technology management. She also coordinated final reviews of all academic program decisions and faculty personnel actions.

Born June 2, 1943 in Jackson, Tenn., she is married (Sal) and is the mother of two children, Austin (20) and Adrian (18). Albino has been a principal or contributing investigator in 10 grants and contracts, most involving psychology or dentistry.

CHANCELLOR RODERIC PARK

Dr. Roderic Park was named interim chancellor for the University of Colorado-Boulder on June 22, 1994, coming to CU after a long and successful academic career at the University of California at Berkeley.

Park, 63, replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who retired after eight years as chancellor for the Boulder campus of Colorado's largest public university.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Harvard in 1953 and a Ph.D. in 1958 from the California Institute of Technology. He had postdoctoral fellowships at both Cal Tech and the University of California, and took his first full-time post at Berkeley in 1960 as an assistant professor of botany.

After three years, he was named an associate professor of botany, and was named professor in the same field in 1966, a position he held until 1989. He became a professor of plant biology in 1989, and was named professor emeritus of plant biology in 1993, the position he held at the time he accepted the CU chancellorship.

His academic specializations included plant physiology, molecular biology and geochemistry. His latest research interest centered around molecular biology of sieve tube elements in relation to plant defense mechanisms and transport.

He has held several academic administrative posts in his career, most notably serving as California's vice chancellor from 1980 to 1990. He also was the Provost and Dean of the College of Letters and Science at Cal from 1972 to 1980.

Park also has served on 17 different boards, committees or trusteeships, including seven years on the Harvard Board of Overseers and the University Labor Relations Council and six years as a trustee for the University of California Foundation.

He currently has a manuscript in preparation entitled, "It's Only The Janitor—A Guide to the Customs and Inhabitants of the Academy." He calls it a "somewhat whimsical account of the major issues facing higher education and strategies for dealing with them," based on his experiences at Berkeley, Harvard and elsewhere.

He was born on Jan. 7, 1932 in Cannes, France. He is an accomplished sailor and is currently the director of the Richmond Yacht Club Foundation. He has won several sailing competitions including a single-handed sailing race between California and the Hawaiian Islands. He is married (Cathy).

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE JAMES CORBRIDGE

James N. Corbridge, Jr., is entering his fifth year as CU's faculty representative to the Big Eight Conference.

Corbridge was the chair of the representatives for the 1993-94 academic year, and thus played an instrumental role in the Big Eight's expansion, when the league added four Southwest Conference schools in February, 1994.

He retired as the Chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder campus in June, 1994, after eight years in the position. A professor of law, he has returned to teaching on the UCB campus.

Corbridge also is known on campus for his administrative skills and accomplishments. In his 30 years at CU, he has held many top-level administrative posts — as well as developing a distinguished teaching and research career in the School of Law.

Corbridge joined the CU faculty in 1965, coming to Colorado from the law firm of Lord, Day and Lord in New York. On the law faculty, Corbridge quickly developed an interest and expertise in natural resources, focusing on water and mining issues.

His enthusiasm for teaching was apparent to colleagues and students alike. In 1972, Corbridge was honored with the CU Teaching Excellence Award in recognition of outstanding skills in instruction. Over the years, he has taught basic property, future interests, mining law, oil and gas, real property security and conveyancing, and water law.

Corbridge's leadership qualities came to the attention of campus administrators not long after his arrival. In 1970, he was named vice president for student affairs, followed by an appointment as vice president for student and minority affairs in 1972.

Two years later, he was named vice chancellor for academic affairs, a position he held until 1977. Then, from 1979 to 1981, Corbridge served as interim vice chancellor for academic services. He was acting vice chancellor for academic affairs in 1986 when he became Chancellor.

Born in Mineola, N.Y., Corbridge lived most of his early years on Long Island. He earned a bachelor's degree from Brown University in 1955, majoring in English and American Literature. He graduated from Yale Law School in 1963. He has two children, Loren and Stuart, and is married to Pauline Hale.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR BILL MAROLT

Bill Marolt

Bill Marolt is in his 12th year as athletic director, only the third in University of Colorado history, accepting the position on Aug. 3, 1984.

Marolt, 52, succeeded Eddie Crowder as the athletic department boss officially on Sept. 1, 1984. Crowder held the post from 1965 until he stepped down. Harry Carlson, CU's athletic director from 1927 until 1965, is the only other to ever hold the title.

Marolt's first decade as athletic director has been a most productive one, as CU is enjoying more success than at any point in its athletic history (a record 11 CU teams were ranked in the nation's top 25 at one point or another during the 1993-94 season). He has applied a no-nonsense, yet personal, approach in building the department into one of the country's strongest.

The athletic department has operated within its budget every year under his direction, and at the same time has grown in both size and stature. He has instituted many programs that are in place at CU that are unique to college athletics.

One of the projects he is most proud of in his tenure is the Dal Ward Athletic Center, an effort that he has guided from concept to reality. Spearheading a $14 million fund-raising campaign for the building, he has been involved in every facet of the state-of-the-art structure, including planning, design, layout and most importantly, fund-raising. His efforts landed multi-million dollar donations which enabled construction on the building to begin following the 1990 football season.

He was also a member of the Denver Organizing Committee, which hosted the 1990 NCAA Final Four along with the University, is on the Colorado Winter Games Committee, and is chairman of the Big Eight Conference's television committee.

Marolt came to CU from the United States Ski Team, where he was Alpine Director since 1978. He was responsible for the overall administration of the alpine program year-round in addition to his coaching duties.

At the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, Marolt's skiers won five medals, including three gold, culminating a tremendous coaching career for Marolt.

Marolt as a CU skier in 1966.

Born September 1, 1943 in Aspen, Marolt graduated from Aspen High School in 1961 where he lettered in both skiing and football. He went on to attend the University of Colorado where he enjoyed a very successful skiing career, both on the collegiate and national circuits. He was a member of the World Championship Ski Team in 1962 and 1966 and a member of the 1964 Olympic team.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in marketing from CU in 1967. The following summer he was named head coach of the Buff Ski Team, a position he would hold from 1969 through 1978.

What Marolt did with the CU Ski Team is virtually unmatched by any other coach in any sport on the college level. Over the course of 10 seasons, he piloted the Buffs to seven straight NCAA championships. His recruiting was the best in the nation, proven by 30 of his athletes winning All-American honors those 10 seasons (15 in alpine, 10 in jumping, and five in nordic).

At CU, Marolt also worked closely with the University's ski club and recreation department to develop a women's ski program, which eventually led to the establishment of a women's varsity ski team.

Following his success at CU, Marolt moved on to the U.S. Ski Team, based in Park City, Utah. As Alpine Director, Marolt prepared, monitored, and controlled a budget each year that totaled almost two million dollars. He was responsible for organization and administration, fiscal management, public relations, staffing and personnel.

It was these characteristics that put him ahead of the pack when then-CU President Dr. Arnold Weber selected a successor to Crowder.

Marolt is married to the former Constance (Connie) Parfet. The couple have two children, Katy (22) and Shannon (19).

In 1991, he was honored with the President's Award from Colorado Ski Country USA, which cited his efforts in CU's two national championships (football and skiing) during the 1990-91 academic year and his contributions over the years to the skiing industry in the state.

In 1993, he became the fifth person associated with the University of Colorado to be inducted into the United States Ski Hall-of-Fame. He was inducted primarily for his accomplishments as a ski racer, as he won over two dozen major amateur competitions, including four NCAA titles and six national downhill or giant slalom championships. His eight years as a member of the U.S. Ski Team (1961-68) and six years as coach (1978-84) also were a factor in his joining his former coach, Bob Beattie, and three CU teammates, Jimmie Heuga, Billy Kidd and Buddy Werner, in the national hall.

HEAD COACH RICK NEUHEISEL

Rick Neuheisel is in his first season as head football coach at the University of Colorado, as the second-youngest head coach in the NCAA was named the 21st head coach in CU history on Nov. 28, 1994.

Neuheisel succeeded Bill McCartney, who had coached the Buffaloes the previous 13 years, the second longest tenure ever at the school. Neuheisel inherits a program from McCartney that has been ranked 100 consecutive weeks in the nation's top 25, along with winning CU's first national championship in 1990.

McCartney was responsible for bringing Neuheisel to Colorado, as he hired him as quarterbacks and receivers coach on Feb. 28, 1994. McCartney coached the 1994 team to an 11-1 record, remaining as head coach after announcing his resignation on Nov. 19. After CU's 41-24 Fiesta Bowl win, Neuheisel assumed all duties as head coach on Jan. 3, 1995, although he coordinated all recruiting operations after being named head coach.

This is the first head coaching position for the 34-year-old Neuheisel, who spent seven seasons as an assistant coach prior to securing the Colorado job. He worked six years at his alma mater, UCLA, under his college coach Terry Donahue, along with the one season on McCartney's staff in Boulder. Only Louisville's Ron Cooper is younger than Neuheisel in the Division I-A ranks, and only by four days at that.

The road that led Neuheisel into coaching was an interesting, if not a unique one. After finishing his college career with a spectacular performance in the 1984 Rose Bowl in which he was named the game's most valuable player, he graduated from UCLA in May, 1984, with a bachelor's degree in political science. Neuheisel had a solid 3.4 grade point average, the highest of all graduating football seniors, and was named Academic all-Pac 10. He won the Jack R. Robinson and Paul I. Wellman awards from the school to honor his academic excellence, and he also earned an NCAA postgraduate scholarship as he aspired to attend law school.

He played two seasons (1984, 1985), with the San Antonio Gunslingers of the United States Football League. Following the 1985 USFL season (which was over by the end of summer), he decided to use his NCAA scholarship award and enrolled in law school at Southern California. The following summer, he joined the UCLA staff as a volunteer coach, specifically to tutor Troy Aikman on the UCLA offense. Aikman matured under Neuheisel's tutelage, and the two remain very close friends to this day.

In 1987, Neuheisel had a "cup of coffee" in the National Football League. He played three games for the San Diego Chargers (starting two), and still holds a team record to this day for completion percentage in a game (81.8, going 18-of-22 for 217 yards and a touchdown at Tampa Bay). He completed 40-of-59 passes in those three games for 367 yards and one touchdown, and he added another touchdown rushing. Another claim to his short-lived NFL fame is that he is the last player to rush for a one-point conversion, running in a muffed PAT attempt at Cincinnati. This is forever a trivia answer, with the NFL now sporting the two-point conversion.

He closed out the season with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (dressing out for two games, but never getting the chance to play). He wore the same number at Tampa Bay (No. 7) that he wore for San Diego. But the NFL strike that season left him with a bad taste in his mouth for professional football, and he decided to return to the college ranks.

Neuheisel would again return to his alma mater, UCLA, but this time in the capacity of a full-time assistant coach in charge of the quarterbacks, which he would coach for the next two seasons before switching to receivers coach in 1990.

While an assistant at UCLA, Neuheisel continued his studies in his pursuit of a law degree. He graduated from the University of Southern California's School of Law in 1990 with his Juris Doctor degree. He would be sworn into

The Neuheisels,
Rick and Susan

the Arizona State Bar Association in May of 1991, and the Washington, D.C. Bar in March, 1993.

As is the case in any high profile hiring, there are hundreds of quotes from and/or about the person selected to fill that particular position. But the best few sentences came from Neuheisel himself the night of the announcement.

"I'm going to build on what coach Mac has implemented," Neuheisel said. "But I can't be coach Mac. I have to be Rick Neuheisel, and all I want to do is give the team the best chance to win. I really have to say thank you to my Mom and Dad. They taught me how to dream with my feet on the ground. Have your dreams, but have a plan to make them come true."

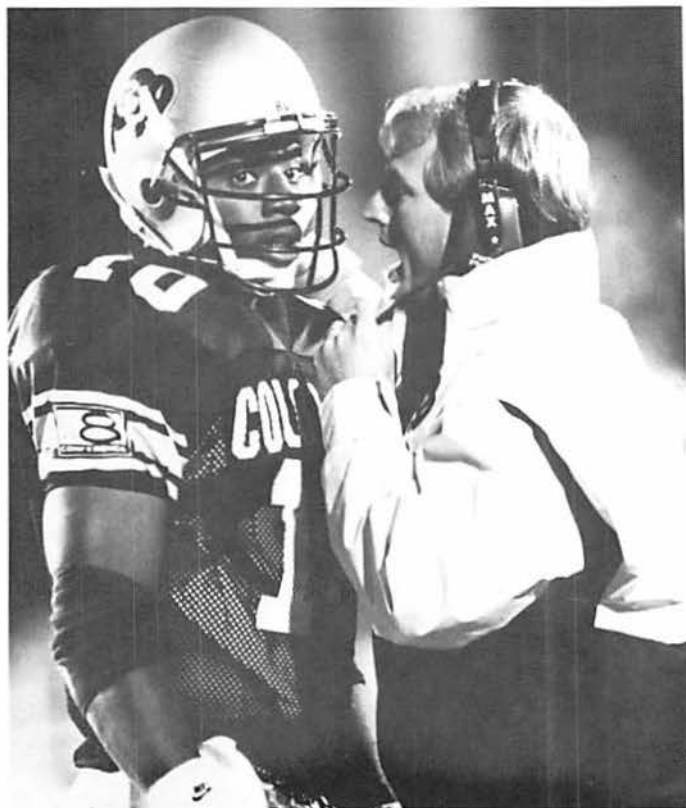

He originally walked on at UCLA as a holder for kicker John Lee, and eventually battled Steve Bono for the starting job by his senior year. He secured the starting job four games into the regular season and quarterbacked the Bruins to the Pacific-10 Conference championship in 1983, earning honorable mention all-Pac 10 honors in the process. He was named the most valuable player in the 1984 Rose Bowl when UCLA beat Illinois, 45-9. In that game, Neuheisel completed 22 of 31 passes for 298 yards and four touchdowns, including a pair to Karl Dorrell, who is now CU's offensive coordinator.

Neuheisel completed 198 of 290 passes for 2,480 yards and 15 touchdowns in his UCLA career, which at the time placed him sixth on the Bruins' all-time passing yards list. He still holds school records in completion percentage for both a single season (69.3 as a senior) and career (68.3). Another school record he still holds, completion percentage in a single game, set an NCAA record at the time: he completed 25 of 27 passes (including 18 straight at one point and for 287 yards overall) against Washington in 1983, a remarkable 92.6 percent.

He graduated from McClintock High School in Tempe, Ariz., in 1979, and was the school's most outstanding athlete his senior year as he lettered in football (quarterback), basketball (guard) and baseball (shortstop, outfield, pitcher). He is a member of McClintock's Hall-of-Fame.

Richard Gerald Neuheisel, Jr., was born on Feb. 7, 1961, in Madison, Wis., where he will make his debut as a head coach as the Buffaloes open at Wisconsin on Sept. 2. He is married to the former Susan Wilkinson, and they have two children, Jerry (3) and Jack (born last Aug. 16).

Neuheisel's father, Dick, was one of the original Tempe Diablos in helping the Fiesta Bowl get off the ground, and is president of Sister Cities International, a worldwide good will organization. Rick is one of Dick and Jane's four children, as he has three sisters, Nancy, Katie and Deborah. Neuheisel is also an accomplished guitar player, a fairly decent singer (he is a huge country music fan but likes most kinds of music), and his hobbies include skiing and golf.

He coached the inside linebackers his first two years there (1977-78), and became defensive coordinator and secondary coach from 1979-82. He returned to CU from Arizona State, where he worked as receivers coach for the 1994 season. He previously had coached receivers at Colorado for two seasons (1992, 1993) under Bill McCartney, as he was hired the first time in Boulder on Feb. 20, 1992. In his first year at CU, two of his receivers, Charles Johnson and Michael Westbrook, became just the fourth pair of receivers on the same team in NCAA history to each have over 1,000 receiving yards. He came to Colorado from Northern Arizona University, where he was offensive coordinator in 1991 and receivers coach in 1990. Under his tutelage, the NAU offense set a school record with 255 first downs in 1991, amassing the second most total offense (4,539 yards) in a season. His first coaching job was as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, UCLA, in 1988, and his first full-time job was as receivers coach at Central Florida in 1989.

He is a 1988 graduate of the University of Colorado, earning his bachelor's degree in communications. He lettered four times at strong safety under coach Bill McCartney, as he was a member of Mac's first recruiting class at CU. Pruitt set Colorado records for the most tackles by a defensive back in a season (116 in 1987) and career (340), both of which still stand today. BUFFALO FOOTBALL TECHNIQUE SCHOOL

The University of Colorado Buffalo Football Technique School has become the most popular in the Rocky Mountain Region, as kids from ages eight to 18 have annually come to Boulder to enjoy a week's worth of learning and recreation.

Called one of the best football camps in America, the school features CU head coach Rick Neuheisel, the Buffalo coaching staff, and several area college and high school coaches. The strength of the CU technique school is the player-to-coach ratio (never more than 10-1) and the emphasis on teaching.

The majority of the school is spent on the field in the actual teaching and drilling of the fundamentals and techniques of each position, the same exact things the Colorado Buffaloes are taught. Campers will learn about the importance of attitude, discipline, work, pride and team concept, the same qualities that have made CU a national championship program.

Camp dates for 1996 are tentatively scheduled for June 19-22 (8- to 13-year-olds) and June 23-27 (14 years and older). Rates are available for daycampers (in the $145-170 range) and dormcampers ($230-300). For more information, call the CU football office at 303/492-5331.

1995 COLORADO FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

"Things Have Changed" was the battle cry of the University of Colorado in 1989, when the Buffs turned the tables on league rivals Nebraska and Oklahoma and claimed the Big Eight Conference title. CU went on to win the Big Eight again in 1990, winning the school's first national championship in the process.

Now, some six years later, things have changed again. The Buffs have had a change at the top, as Bill McCartney retired as coach after 13 seasons at the reins of the program, with his successor, Rick Neuheisel, named from within.

Neuheisel not only has to replace a legend, he's taking over a program which has maintained its pinnacle of success. The Buffaloes enter 1995 having been ranked 100 consecutive weeks in the top 25, the last 17 in the top 10 (both school all-time bests). CU finished 11-1 in 1994, polishing off Notre Dame rather easily in the Fiesta Bowl enroute to a No. 3 final national ranking.

Oh, and don't forget that in Rashaan Salaam, the Buffaloes had their first player ever awarded the Heisman Trophy. Salaam also claimed the Doak Walker Award and the Water Camp Player-of-the-Year Trophy in becoming the fourth player in history to rush for 2,000-plus yards in a single season. On the defensive side of the ball, cornerback Chris Hudson won Colorado's second Jim Thorpe Award in three years, allowing CU to make its claim as "defensive back U."

"It was an unbelievable season, with 'team' being the battle cry the entire year," Neuheisel said. "Coach Mac preached it right from the beginning as a way to achieve all our goals, and in the end he was right. It was very fitting for him to go out with a great win over Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl."

Koy Detmer, Bryan Stoltenberg

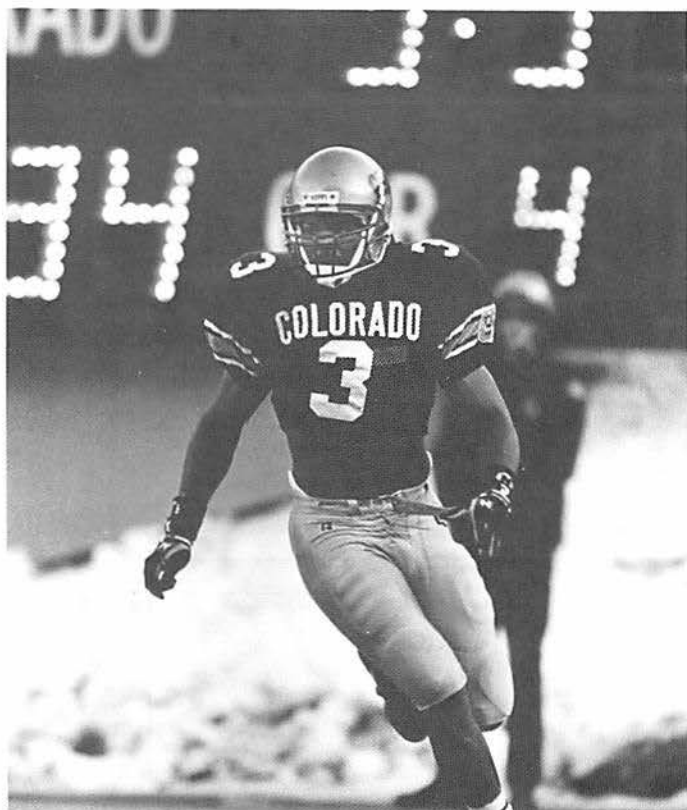

Matt Russell

The cupboard isn't bare by any means, but the 10 starters Colorado won't have back definitely left their mark on the program. Salaam and Hudson will be playing on Sundays this fall, as will many others from last year's squad. Other notables who won't be in black and gold this fall are quarterback Kordell Stewart (the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader and owner of 38 CU records), Michael Westbrook (CU's all-time leading receiver), Christian Fauria (the Buffs' all-time tight end reception leader), Ted Johnson (the runner-up for the '94 Butkus Award) and Shannon Clavelle (the defensive MVP in the Fiesta Bowl). Offensive tackles Tony Berti and Derek West and defensive tackle Darius Holland will also likely be playing in the pros come fall.

To the outsider, there might appear to be a chasm of talent that needs to be filled before the Buffs can be construed as a national title contender. But to Neuheisel and his staff, it's a challenge that they feel they can meet head on this season. They look upon it as reloading instead of rebuilding.

"Any time you lose the senior class that we lost, as well as two prominent juniors, to the NFL, you have a reloading job to do," Neuheisel said. "Plus, you couldn't have asked for a better senior class in every respect, so they've set a standard for years to come."

"But what's neat about college football is that the young players now have a chance to make their mark. So while we have strengths, I'm not prepared to say we have any weaknesses, just inexperience in some areas. Our strengths will be in the interior of our offensive line, at quarterback, receiver, inside and outside linebacker and safety. Our youthful inexperience right now exists at the offensive tackle spots, running back, cornerback and on the defensive line."

The Buffaloes have 37 returning lettermen from last fall, including 12 starters (five offense, seven defense) and 10 other players who have some starting experience during their careers. As with last year's team, it could again be a nice blend of veterans sprinkled with youth; seniors occupy only five of the 22 starting spots, with mostly juniors (nine) listed first-team on the depth chart.

Neuheisel has said that he plans for the CU offense to be a lot more "cerebral," incorporating many more formations. The nucleus of this offense will be built around perhaps the best interior line in the country, as center Bryan Stoltenberg and guards Heath Irwin and Chris Naeole are all expected to be honors candidates. The heir apparent to Stewart, junior Koy Detmer, started the Oklahoma and Nebraska games as a true freshman in 1992, and is now prepared to make a run at becoming one of the nation's premier quarterbacks.

"We hope to be a very explosive unit, combining both running and passing attacks to maintain a great balance of weaponry," Neuheisel said. "And the impression to some that we plan to deviate from the running game will prove to be a false one." Sophomores Herchell Troutman and Lendon Henry top the list to replace Salaam in the regular lineup and both had solid springs.

Colorado will shift to the 4-3 on defense, the first time since 1971 that the Buffs will employ an even front, other than last year's Fiesta Bowl. "Given the success of the Notre Dame win in the Fiesta Bowl (CU had seven sacks and over a dozen pressures), we feel it's to our benefit to increase the pressure on the quarterback," Neuheisel notes. "We feel like the 4-3 suits this desire, and the secondary will have to hold up with man-to-man coverage to make this happen." The installation of the new defense continued in the spring, and it looks like it will be a success. The players appear to like the change to the more aggressive style.

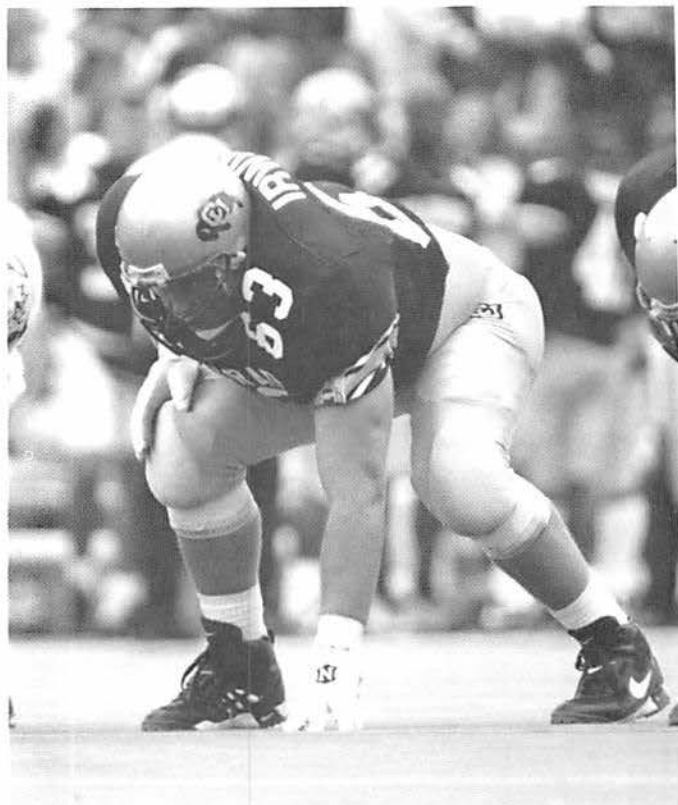

There's plenty of returning talent on defense, headlined by defensive tackle Kerry Hicks, defensive end Greg Jones, linebacker Matt Russell and safeties Donnell Leomiti and Steve Rosga. All likely will be honors candidates come fall.

Neuheisel has added Bob Hauck as special teams coach, the first full-time assistant on any CU staff to specifically tutor all facets of the kicking game since 1981. "Although the kicking game wasn't where we wanted it to be a year ago, we have the necessary assets to be successful," Neuheisel said. "The hiring of Bob Hauck as our special teams coach hopefully will be conducive in the end, so we'll be doing more with special teams this spring than perhaps in the past."

Colorado will once again play its usual strong schedule, as year-in and year-out the Buffaloes play one of the toughest schedules in the nation. CU opens on the road in an enemy stadium for the first time since 1983, traveling to Wisconsin. That game will be televised nationally on ABC the night of Sept. 2. CU then has its home opener a week later against in-state rival Colorado State, with ESPN to be on hand to show it to the entire country. Two weeks later, Texas A & M visits Boulder, prior to the start of league play at Oklahoma the following week. The Buffs get Nebraska at home in '95, as the CU-NU game has decided the league champion in each of the last six seasons.

The 1995 Big Eight race will be historic as it's the last one. In 1996, Texas, Texas A & M, Baylor and Texas Tech join the eight current league schools to form the Big 12. Plus, the final Big Eight season features four new head coaches, guaranteeing a changing of the guard.

"The Big Eight race is always extremely competitive, and the league is becoming more balanced," Neuheisel said. "There are no 'gimme' wins out there in my estimation, as everyone in this league better be ready to play or you're not going to win. Certainly the team to beat is Nebraska, but we feel if we take care of business here at home we will be in the thick of things come November."

KNOW COLORADO FOOTBALL

- Colorado posted an 11-1 record in 1994, its 10th straight winning season and seventh straight with at least eight wins (the latter is a school record). The Buffaloes own the nation's fifth-best record record, 58-11-4, over the past six seasons. Only Miami, Fla., and Florida State have fewer losses (9) in that span than Colorado.
- Colorado was ranked No. 3 in the final 1994 polls (Associated Press and USA Today/CNN Coaches). The Buffaloes have been ranked 100 consecutive weeks in the media balloting, adding to the school record, and 98 in a row (and 101 of the last 102) in the coaches' balloting (which is combined between UPI and USA Today/CNN). CU has also spent a school record 17 straight weeks in the nation's top 10.
- Colorado played one of the nation's toughest schedules in 1994, facing six teams which were ranked in the nation's top 25 at the time of the game (with the same six heading to bowl games). Wisconsin (Hall of Fame), Michigan (Holiday), Texas (Sun), Oklahoma (Copper), Kansas State (Aloha) and Nebraska (Orange) were CU's 1994 bowl opponents.
- Colorado has 37 returning lettermen, which includes 12 starters back from the 1994 team, and 22 players who have starting experience some time during their CU careers. Five starters return on offense with seven back on defense.
- Colorado has been on national or regional television 36 times dating back to the start of the 1988 season. This figure leads the Big Eight, with Nebraska second to the Buffaloes with 33 (CU has a 34-28 edge dating from the start of the 1989 season). How impressive is CU's total? The 34 games since 1989 is 47 percent of all CU games played (73) in that time frame.
- Colorado led the Big Eight Conference in total offense with an average of 495.3 yards per game (a school record), the second year in a row that CU has led the league (a first in Buffalo history). Colorado gained 500-plus yards in a game six times in 1994 (also a school best), and has gained 500 yards in 11 of its last 22 regular season games.

- The Buffs have been blessed with good health for the most part over the last seven seasons. Of the 79 players on last year's roster that were available to play (a dozen were ticketed for redshirt seasons), only 32 out of 869 games were lost due to injury (3.7 percent). This has been the norm, due to the combined efforts of CU's Dave Burton and his exceptional sports medicine program, and to the strength and conditioning program installed at CU by Doc Kreis.
- The Buffs lead the Big Eight in two unique categories: NFL player production and four-year graduation rates. Currently, there are 26 Buffs in the NFL, with Nebraska second (20) and Oklahoma third (13). The Buffs also lead the conference in graduate rate for incoming student-athletes between 1984-87 (55%).
- Colorado is 37-12-1 in regular season road games since 1985, and have won 30 of the last 37 starts in enemy stadiums. The Buffaloes have won 22 of their last 26 Big Eight road games dating back to 1987 (the exceptions: losses at Nebraska in 1988, 1992 and 1994 and a tie at Kansas State in 1993).
- Since 1985, CU is firmly established in the top three in the Big Eight Conference standings. Here's a look at the league standings (conference games only) in that time frame: Nebraska 61-8-1; COLORADO 54-13-3; Oklahoma 54-14-2; Oklahoma State 25-42-3; Iowa State 22-45-3; Kansas 20-48-2; Kansas State 19-49-2; Missouri 18-52. Since 1989, everyone else is looking up at the Buffs: COLORADO 36-3-3; Nebraska 37-4-1; Oklahoma 28-13-1; Kansas 17-24-1; Kansas State 17-24-1; Iowa State 11-29-3; Missouri 10-32; Oklahoma State 7-32-3. CU has posted a winning record in league play for 10 straight years, a school best (the previous best streak had been three).

- Since 1989, Colorado has posted the nation's fifth-best overall record at 58-11-4. Here's a look at some trends during this time frame:

- 38-2-2 when amassing 400-plus yards total offense (21-1 with 500-plus);
- 47-3-2 when scoring 24 or more points;
- 39-2-3 when holding edge in time of possession (19-9-1 when not);
- 39-3-1 when making 20-plus first downs;
- 27-0-1 when converting over 50 percent on third down attempts;
- 23-4-2 when passing for 200-plus yards (6-0-1 300-plus; 2-0-1 400-plus);
- 42-5-2 when committing two or fewer turnovers (12-3-2 with zero);
- 43-5-2 when average field position is CU30 or better (10-0 at CU 40 or better);
- 37-1-1 when holding opponents to 17 points or less;
- 25-1-1 when holding opponents to under 100 yards rushing;
- 31-1-1 when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense;
- 33-3-3 when running more plays than the opponent;
- 35-1-1 when scoring first (23-0-1 in last 24);
- 33-1-2 when holding the edge in first downs and time of possession.
- 38-3-1 when play selection is 67 percent (2-to-1) rushing calls;
- 50-2-3 when outrushing the opponent;
- 45-3-1 when holding the edge in field position (13-8-3 when not).

STAT SHOTS . . .

Some interesting statistical notes about Colorado football:

- Over the last two seasons, Colorado has posted some incredible offensive numbers. Colorado ran 773 plays in 1994, with 180 going for 10 or more yards (23 percent) and 378 for five or more yards (49 percent). The Buffs gained zero or minus yardage only 180 times (23 percent). The same numbers for the opponent? Foes gained 10 or more yards about 19 percent of the time, five or more yards 37 percent of the time and zero or minus yardage 37 percent of the time (OU gained zero or minus yardage 37 of 73 plays).
- In its history, Colorado is 230-6-1 when scoring 30 or more points, along with records of 160-3 with 35-plus points and 148-2 with 36-plus, 129-1 with 38-plus and 87-0 with 43 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 in 1993).
- CU has allowed only 97 TD's the last 209 times the enemy has cracked its 20 (dating back to 1988; the other 112 times have yielded 51 field goals and 61 non-scores. In this time frame, that works to the opponent coming away with nothing three times in 10 tries inside the 20, and scoring a touchdown just over four times in every 10 tries.
- Colorado continued to strike it rich on second down in 1994, which has become a Buffalo tradition. The Buffs gained 1,947 yards on 268 second down plays, a hefty 7.3 average. The Buffs did well on other downs as well; first (7.2) and third (6.6). The Buffs have averaged six or more yards on second down in seven of the last eight seasons (a 5.4 norm in 1991 is the lone exception). Colorado averaged 7.0 yards per play all told in 1994, which was second in the nation to Penn State's 7.6.
- Colorado had 2,242 passing yards in 1994, the fourth most for a single season in school history, with the 3,206 rushing yards the fifth most for a single year. This enabled Colorado to set a school record for total offense (5,448 yards, or 495.3 per game), as CU led the Big Eight Conference for the second straight year (the first time the Buffs have done that).
- Colorado's punt return coverage was nothing short of sensational for the second straight year. CU allowed just 5.8 yards per return in 1994 (64 on 11), and allowed just a 6.9 average in 1993.
- The Buffaloes rushed and passed for over 200 yards each against NE Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas and Notre Dame, and did it four times in 1993. CU averaged over 200 in each for the season in both 1993 and 1994, the first times that has ever happened at CU. It is a statistical rarity nationally (Penn State, New Mexico and Michigan were the only others to do it in 1994), and CU has done it only 16 times in 153 games since 1982. Colorado did it twice in 1989 and once each in 1983, 1991 and 1992.
- Colorado passed for more yards than it rushed for in all 12 games in 1992 and did it five times in 1993. The Buffs did it three times in 1994, making it 20 times in the last 36 games. Going into 1992, the Buffs had done that just three times the previous seven seasons (1985-91).
- Colorado has allowed only 36 quarterback sacks over the past two seasons, with the offensive line responsible for only 25 of those. The experienced CU offensive line has allowed just the 36 sacks in 611 passing plays, or one for every 17 pass plays called. That total was three below the 1992 season total of 39.

- ONE OF ELEVEN ... Colorado is one of just 11 schools in Division I which has strung together 10 consecutive winning seasons (1985-94). CU has posted a winning record every year since 1985, both overall and in Big Eight Conference play. Here's the list of the 11 which have done it: Alabama, BYU, Colorado, Florida, Florida State, Miami, Michigan, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas A & M and Washington. The Big Eight is the only conference to have as many as three teams with streaks as long as 10.
- The Buffs are 56-6-3 in their last 65 games on artificial turf (losses were at Illinois in 1990, Baylor in Boulder in 1991, at Nebraska in 1992 and 1994 and to Miami and Nebraska in Boulder in 1993). Colorado is 6-9-1 on grass dating back to 1982.
- Colorado has only two losses to unranked teams since the 1987 season opener to Oregon (to BYU in the 1988 Freedom Bowl and to Stanford in 1991; BYU reappeared in the final rankings for 1988 and Stanford went 7-1 after the CU game to crack the top 20). The Buffs are 20-0-2 in their last 22 games against unranked teams (Associated Press), along with records of 36-1-2 in the last 39 and 50-3-2 in the last 55.
- TWO-MINUTE WARNING ... Colorado has scored 61 times in 81 tries that the offense has been put into the two-minute drill since 1988 (or 75.3 percent of the time). The Buffs were 7-of-8 in 1994 (first half TDs against NLU, Wisconsin and Oklahoma State, two TDs in the final two minutes of the game at Michigan, a field goal in the first half at Kansas, and the game-winning field goal drive at Texas). CU was 8-of-11 in 1993 (no spectacular endings), and was 6-of-12 in 1992, including the tying field goal against Oklahoma and game-winning touchdown at Kansas. Colorado was 8-of-12 in the two-minute offense in 1991, 11-of-14 in 1990, 11-of-11 in 1989 and 10-of-13 in 1988. At the end of the first half, the Buffs have converted at an 81 percent clip (40-of-50, including 26 touchdowns).

- Colorado played four turnover-free games in 1994, and was again among the nation's leaders in turnover margin (29th; +0.55). Colorado had gone 11 years (1976 to 1987) before playing a game without committing a turnover, but has now committed zero turnovers in 23 of its last 95 games.
- Colorado has lost only six games and has been tied twice dating back to 1980 when leading by any margin at any point in the fourth quarter. The losses have been to Washington State in 1981 (losing 14-10 after leading 10-0); Nebraska in 1984 (losing 24-7 after leading 7-3); Kansas in 1984 (losing 28-27 after leading 27-16); Arizona in 1986 (losing 24-21 after leading 21-12); Brigham Young in the 1988 Freedom Bowl (losing 20-17 after leading 17-14); Baylor in 1991 (losing 16-14 after leading 14-13); and Stanford in 1993 (losing 41-37 after leading 37-27). The ties have come against Tennessee in 1990 (31-31, after leading 31-17) and Kansas State in 1993 (16-16, after taking a late 16-13 lead). In the same span, Colorado has rallied to win 14 games and tie two others dating back to 1981 after once trailing at some point in the fourth quarter.
- ON THE ROAD ... Colorado has been one of the nation's winningest teams in enemy stadiums since 1985. CU is 30-6-1 in its last 37 road tilts and is 37-12-1 away from home over the last 10 seasons. Colorado had a 12-game conference road winning streak stopped in 1992 at Nebraska, and the Buffs last road loss to an unranked team in league play was back in 1984 (38-6 in the season finale at Kansas State). All told, the Buffs are 22-0-1 in their last 23 road games against the Big Eight's unranked. The chart below shows that CU has the fourth best road record by any team in the national since 1989.

THE BIG EIGHT IN THE 1990s

Colorado is the only Big Eight School to own a winning record against ranked non-conference teams in the 1990s (using the Associated Press poll), and leads the way against all ranked teams including Big Eight games. In fact, Colorado has played 15 such games, which represents almost 60 percent of its games against non-league competition. The Buffs are 8-6-1 in these games, a 56.7 winning percentage; Oklahoma is at .500 (3-3), with Nebraska next at .400 (4-6). Here's a breakdown of the league against all competition in the 1990s (including bowls):

- ALL-AMERICANS . . . Colorado tied the school record for the most high school All-Americans in its recruiting history, as 20 of the 22 signees earned some kind of All-America honor (90.9 percent, which is a school best). In 1994, 11 of the 18 were All-Americans (61.1%); in 1993, 17 of the 20 high school signees received some kind of postseason All-America recognition (85.0%). In 1992, the record was initially set with 20 of the 25 signing earning an All-America nod (80.0%), with the fourth most (14 of 20, 70.0%) inked in 1991.

The most multiple All-Americans in CU recruiting history is the 17 signed this year ("multiple" meaning honored by two or more organizations). The old mark was 15 in the 1992 class, followed by 12 in 1993, 11 in 1991 and nine in 1994. All listings are first-team, unless otherwise indicated (Prep Football Report is Tom Lemming's All-America listings, Who's Who is Joe Terranova's work; all are postseason unless otherwise noted):

PLAYER BIOGRAPHIES

12 AYYUB ABDUL-RAHMAAN, QB 6-0, 200, Soph., VR, Oakland, Calif. (Skyline)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at quarterback. He completed 15 of 26 passes for 216 yards in the three spring scrimmages. 1994: Likely just one of a handful of quarterbacks in the nation who played on special teams. He saw action in 10 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, and made three unassisted tackles. He saw limited time during spring drills in scrimmages and games, completing 1-of-3 passes for 11 yards. 1993:

Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at quarterback.

High School—Garnered SuperPrep All-Far West honors as a senior, when he was named Skyline's most valuable player (after he earned the same honor the previous season at Berkeley High School up the bay). He was a two-time all-Oakland Athletic League selection (once at each school) and earned all-Metro (San Francisco Bay) honors as a senior. As a senior, he completed 110 of 140 passes (an astounding 78.6 percent) for 1,876 yards and 21 touchdowns, throwing only four interceptions, and rushed for 460 yards on 15 attempts (mostly broken plays or scrambling out of the pocket). His top games included a 15-of-19 effort for 310 yards and two TDs against Bellarmine and a four-touchdown effort (three pass, one rush) against Castlemont. As a junior, he threw for over 1,000 yards and 11 TDs with only five interceptions, and as a sophomore, he rushed and passed for about 500 yards each, as he was hampered much of the season by assorted injuries. For his career, he passed for over 3,400 yards and 28 TD passes. Skyline won the Oakland League (at one juncture, his team was ranked No. 2 in the state and lost in the state title game). Berkeley was 6-4 his junior year and 3-7 when he was a sophomore under coach Earl Moore. Also lettered three times in his prep career in basketball, and averaged 15 points per game as a starting guard his senior year.

Academics—Undecided on his major, and is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is a member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, as he owns the highest grade point average of all the quarterbacks.

Personal—Born Jan. 20, 1975 in Berkeley, Calif. Hobbies include drawing. Father (Frank) played at Cal-Berkeley (defensive lineman) and is an Oakland attorney. Last name is pronounced eye-you abdul rro-gg-mon.

As a senior, he owned a 43.5 average for 36 punts, with a long of 63 and eight inside-the-20. He made good on six-of-11 field goals, with a long of 41, and converted all 45 of his PAT kicks. As a junior, he averaged 45.5 yards on 25 punts, with a long of 64 and six inside-the-20. He was seven-of-10 in the field goal department (long of 45), and made 25-of-28 extra point kicks. For his career, he averaged 44.3 yards on 61 punts, and converted 70-of-73 PAT kicks and 13-of-21 field goals. Northglenn was 6-4 his senior year and 13-1 his junior year (state runner-ups) under coach Scott Gallas. He lettered his sophomore year in soccer as a defenseman.

Littleton was 9-2 his senior year, winning the Continental League title and making the state playoffs for the first time in 31 years, and was 7-3 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Rocky Whitworth. Also lettered three times in basketball (guard), and was team captain as a senior.

Due to soreness in his upper body, his playing time was limited a bit in the middle of the season. He played 509 snaps for the season, grading out to over 75 percent for the year. He is believed to be the first true freshman in CU history to start the first game of his career on the offensive line. The coaches felt he was talented enough to contribute immediately.

He was also ranked as the 13th defensive tackle prospect nationally by Max Emfinger and earned mention on the Dallas Morning News's and the Houston Chronicle's Top 100 lists. He was a two-year first-team all-state selection (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), making both publications' All-Colorado lists as a junior and senior as well. 1994-IN-REVIEW

COLORADO 48, NORTHEAST LOUISIANA 13

Game One: September 3, 1994 (Attendance—48,114)

BOULDER—Rashaan Salaam rushed for 184 yards and three touchdowns and quarterback Kordell Stewart had 291 yards of total offense to lead the No. 8 Colorado Buffaloes to a 48-13 win over Northeast Louisiana.

The Buffs gained the fifth-most yards in school history, as CU rushed for 407 and threw for 242 for a 649 total. Colorado ran just 69 plays on the afternoon to amass that yardage, with the Buffs setting a school record for average yards gained per play at 9.4.

The game was close for the first quarter, as Roger Miller kicked the first of two field goals from 36 yards out to give NLU a 3-0 lead. The Buffs marched downfield, with Salaam capping a 12-play, 80-yard drive with a one-yard run. Miller added a 43-yard field goal on the first play of the second quarter to pull NLU to within 7-6.

That's where the Buffs exploded, scoring six consecutive touchdowns to pull away from the Indians. All but one of the CU scoring drives went 80-plus yards, with Salaam scoring two more times and Stewart scoring twice himself and throwing a touchdown pass to account for a third touchdown.

The Buffaloes dominated the interior, but NLU gave it a good go in its first Division I-A game in over a decade. The entire CU offensive line all graded out at 90 percent or better for the game, and CU gained yardage on 61 of the 69 plays, with the other eight going for zero as the Buffs were not caught behind the line of scrimmage all game.

yards overall on 26 carries and put the Buffs ahead to stay with the first score of the game. His one-yard plunge enabled CU to take a 7-0 lead just over five minutes into the game, and the Buffs were off and running. He scored from three yards out after the two schools swapped field goals to pad CU's lead to 17-3.

Meanwhile, on defense, the Buff secondary put an end to four Wisconsin first-half drives with interceptions, which led to 13 CU points. Wisconsin did manage to close to within 20-10 with 2:22 remaining in the half, but Stewart worked his and CU's magic in the two-minute drill. He led CU on a six-play, 80-yard drive which culminated in a 32-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook to give CU a 27-10 halftime lead.

A second Darrell Bevell to Michael Roan touchdown pass brought the Badgers back to within 27-17 early in the second half. But that's where Colorado drew the line, as the Buffs scored the final 28 points of the game to coast to the win.

Stewart had 301 yards of total offense, including 249 passing. He averaged over 31 yards per completion as he enjoyed the fifth 300-yard day of total offense in his career. The Buffs outgained Wisconsin, 448-410 in total offense and 112-14 in return yards.

COLORADO 55, WISCONSIN 17

Game Two: September 17, 1994 (Attendance—53,457)

BOULDER—Colorado's "S-O-S" combination of Kordell Stewart and Rashaan Salaam wreaked havoc on No. 10 Wisconsin, as the two combined for 386 yards of total offense, 206 all-purpose yards and accounted for six touchdowns in the No. 7 ranked Buffaloes' 55-17 victory before an ESPN national television audience.

Salaam tied a school record with four touchdowns, as he gained 85

COLORADO 27, MICHIGAN 26

Game Three: September 24, 1994 (Attendance—106,427)

ANN ARBOR, Michigan—Call it "The Miracle in Michigan" or simply "The Throw," but Kordell Stewart's 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook on the final play of the game will go down as one of the most dramatic scenes in 125 years of college football, as it lifted No. 7 Colorado to a 27-26 win over No. 4 Michigan.

The Buffs trailed 26-14 with just under three minutes left, and the comeback was on. Stewart engineered a 10-play, 72-yard drive in just 96 seconds, with Rashaan Salaam scoring from one yard out to cut the UM lead to 26-21. After an unsuccessful onside kick attempt, it was up to the Buff defense: hold Michigan without a first down and hope to give the ball back to the offense for one last try.

That's exactly what happened, as the defense stifled Michigan, holding the Wolverines to just seven yards (and to only 13 in their last three possessions), enabling the offense to run a couple of more plays. Chris Hudson fair caught the UM punt at the CU 15 with 0:15 remaining; Stewart then connected with Westbrook for 21 yards to get the ball out to the Buff 36, where he spiked the ball on first down to set up the last play. Called the "Rocket Jet," four CU receivers sprinted to the goal line, where Stewart threw the ball perfectly, some 72 yards in the air. That's where Blake Anderson tipped the ball into the waiting hands of Westbrook, stunning the 106,427 in attendance and no doubt millions more watching on national television.

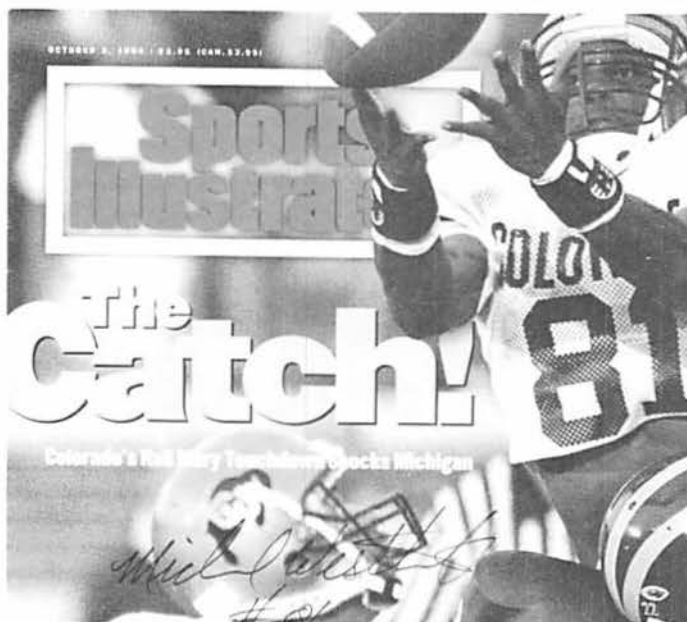

Colorado had worked to a rather easy 14-3 lead over Michigan midway through the second quarter, only to see the Wolverines play perfect football for the next quarter-and-a-half in scoring 23 straight points and the 26-14 edge.

Stewart had 379 yards of total offense, the third most in a game in CU history, with Salaam rushing for 141 yards on 22 carries and Westbrook catching seven passes for 157 yards.

COLORADO 34, TEXAS 31

Game Four, October 1, 1994 (Attendance—77,809)

AUSTIN, Texas—Neil Voskeritchian's 24-yard field goal with one second remaining lifted No. 5 Colorado to a 34-31 win over No. 16 Texas, giving the cardiac Buffaloes two straight wins in the game's waning moments.

The Buffs were led by Rashaan Salaam, who rushed for the second most yards in CU history in the game. He raced for 317 on 35 carries, scoring one touchdown, and also caught five passes for 45 yards, with his 362 all-purpose yards a school record. Salaam accounted for 17 first downs on the afternoon, a CU record by a non-quarterback.

Colorado moved to a 21-10 halftime lead, using scoring runs by Salaam (six yards) and Herchell Troutman (three and seven yards), Texas tied the game at 21-21 with six minutes left in the third quarter, but a Voskeritchian 44-yard field goal late in the period put CU back ahead, 24-21.

Troutman scored again, from two yards out, finishing off a 14-play, 90-yard drive that ate up six minutes on the clock and put the Buffs up, 31-21. But the Longhorns struck quick, with Shea Morenz connecting with Eric Jackson on a 67-yard pass to cut the CU lead to three. Phil Dawson tied the game by drilling a 47-yard field goal, leaving the score at 31-31 with 4:49 left.

The Buffs marched 73 yards in 13 plays, culminated by Voskeritchian's second field goal of the game. He split the uprights, even after Texas tried to freeze him by calling its last timeout.

Colorado outgained UT, 506-320, and owned a hefty edge in possession time.

COLORADO 38, MISSOURI 23

Game Five, October 8, 1994 (Attendance—38,901)

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Kordell Stewart picked apart the Missouri defense, completing almost 80 percent of his passes, and Rashaan Salaam rushed for 166 yards and two touchdowns to lead No. 5 Colorado to an easy 38-23 win over the Tigers.

The Buffaloes cruised to a 21-7 lead after the first quarter, with Salaam scoring from one yard out and Stewart connecting with tight end Christian Fauria on a one-yard pass to polish off a pair of long scoring drives. Donnell Leomiti intercepted a Jeff Handy pass near the end of the quarter and raced 30 yards into the end zone for CU's third score in the opening 15 minutes.

Neil Voskeritchian made good on a 19-yard field goal to extend the CU lead to 24-7 at halftime. Salaam added another score on a short run in the third quarter, with Stewart finding Michael Westbrook on a spectacular 16-yard grab for a touchdown early in the fourth. Mizzou put the game's final points on the board against the CU reserves.

Stewart completed 16-of-21 passes for 228 yards, and rolled up 284 yards of total offense on the afternoon. Colorado blitzed the Tigers for 502 yards, the fourth time in five games CU has gained 500 or more yards. Ted Johnson paced the CU defense, as he was in on 10 tackles (eight solo), with two for losses, two third down stops, two passes broken up and a touchdown save.

COLORADO 45, OKLAHOMA 7

Game Six, October 15, 1994 (Attendance—53,199)

BOULDER—Rashaan Salaam rushed for 161 yards and four touchdowns, and the Buffalo defense enjoyed its best game of the season as No. 4 Colorado crushed No. 22 Oklahoma, 45-7, CU's most points and largest margin of victory ever over the Sooners.

Colorado dominated both lines of scrimmage from the start, with Salaam scoring all of his touchdowns with 153 yards rushing by halftime. His first three scores all came from seven yards out, with the fourth from nine yards that enabled CU to lead 28-0 at halftime. CU outgained Oklahoma, 141-11, in the first quarter, and the Sooners didn't earn a first down until early in the second stanza.

If there was any doubt about the income, Herchell Troutman's four-yard run late in the third quarter all but sealed the victory. The Buffs added a field goal by Neil Voskeritchian and a one-yard TD run by Lendon Henry, and led 45-0 into the final minute. Garrick McGee's 9-yard touchdown pass to P.J. Mills on fourth-and-goal with 23 seconds spoiled the CU shutout bid, which would have been the first put up against Oklahoma in 125 games dating back to 1983.

Colorado outgained the Sooners, 429-265, on the evening, holding OU to just 40 rushing yards on 35 attempts (the fewest ever by an OU team against CU). Salaam went over the 1,000-yard mark for the game, accomplishing the feat in just six games, the earliest ever for any CU running back. Chris Hudson had an interception, the 14th of his career, which tied him for second place on CU's all-time list.

COLORADO 35, KANSAS STATE 21

Game Seven, October 22, 1994 (Attendance—52,955)

BOULDER—Colorado's one-two-three punch of Kordell Stewart, Rashaan Salaam and Michael Westbrook ate up the Kansas State defense as the No. 2 Buffaloes defeated the No. 19 Wildcats, 35-21, enabling CU to tie a school record for the most ranked teams beaten in a single season.

Stewart accounted for 263 yards of total offense, including a career-high 127 rushing, and three touchdowns, while Salaam added 202 on the ground and two scores. Westbrook made a couple of acrobatic catches at key junctures, hauling down four passes for 64 yards, and the result was a trio that K-State could not overcome in becoming the fifth nationally ranked team to fall to the Buffaloes.

The game was tied on three different occasions, as the Wildcats became the first team in 1994 to score a touchdown against CU on the opening drive. J. J. Smith scored the first of his three touchdowns to give KSU a 7-0 edge about four minutes in. Salaam answered that score with a 53-yard burst, followed by a Stewart eight-yard run that gave CU a 14-7 lead that held until halftime.

After a goal-line stand by the Buffs early in the second half, Smith scored his next two touchdowns late in the third quarter, sandwiched around a Salaam scoring run. The three touchdowns were less than four minutes apart and made the score 21-all entering the fourth quarter. But with 10 minutes left and after Stewart converted on a fourth-and-one from the CU 38, the CU quarterback bolted 60 yards on an option play that put CU ahead for good, 28-21. Stewart added the icing on the cake, scoring from seven yards out with eight seconds left to seal the game.

The Buffs outgained K-State, 475-435, which included a 339-72 edge in rushing yards. During the course of the game, Stewart became only the second player in Big Eight history to pass for 5,000 yards and rush for 1,000.

NEBRASKA 24, COLORADO 7

Game Eight, October 29, 1994 (Attendance—76,131)

LINCOLN, Neb.—The No. 3 Nebraska Cornhuskers played just about a perfect game in defeating the No. 2 Colorado Buffaloes, 24-7, giving the Huskers the inside track to the Big Eight title and the Orange Bowl.

Nebraska methodically built up a 17-0 lead by halftime, doing so by keeping the potent CU offense off the field. Cory Schlesinger scored on a 14-yard burst in the first quarter, with Tom Sieler hitting a 24-yard field goal after an impressive CU goal line stand to put the Huskers up 10-0. The Buffs had the ball for only 8:33 in the first half, as Nebraska ran 41 plays to CU's 23. The back breaker came when Clinton Childs scored from two yards out with just 36 seconds left in the half, which culminated a nine-play, 73-yard drive that for all intents and purposes broke a close game open.

Brook Berringer's 30-yard touchdown pass to Eric Alford made it 24-0 early in the third quarter. The Buffs still had their chances, but the swarming Nebraska defense ended two CU drives on fourth down, one at the Nebraska 35 and the other at the NU 21. Colorado finally got on the board when Rashaan Salaam scored on a six-yard run, cutting the lead to the eventual final score with 1:06 left in the third quarter. Nebraska then stopped CU two more times on fourth down in the fourth quarter to keep the Buffs at bay.

Nebraska outgained CU, 345-314 on the day, but held a 234-89 margin in the first half, with 15 first downs to CU's five. The Buffs held Nebraska to just 11 yards and five first downs in the second half.

COLORADO 17, OKLAHOMA STATE 3

Game Nine, November 5, 1994 (Attendance—51,059)

BOULDER—Rashaan Salaam rushed for 174 yards despite having the flu and Kordell Stewart ran for one touchdown and threw for another to lead the No. 7 Colorado Buffaloes to a 17-3 win over Oklahoma State.

Oklahoma State took the opening kickoff, marched 73 yards and took almost seven minutes off the clock, but could muster only a field goal as the Buff defense tightened inside the red zone. After OSU forced the Buffs to punt, Steve Rosga intercepted Tone Jones on the next series, returning the ball 25 yards to the O-State 30. From there, Kordell Stewart ran it in for a touchdown from 27 yards out on third down to put the Buffs up for good at 7-3.

CU worked its two-minute magic at the end of the first half. Stewart piloted a 12-play, 96-yard drive in just over three minutes, culminated by a Stewart-to-Phil Savoy one-yard touchdown pass with 19 seconds left in the half. The play gave Colorado a 14-3 lead at intermission, with the only second half scoring a 29-yard field goal by Neil Voskeritchian late in the third quarter.

Redshirt-freshman Phil Savoy had career highs in receptions (six) and yards (113) in subbing for an injured Michael Westbrook.

The Buffs outgained the Pokes, 399-346, on the afternoon, running 13 fewer plays in doing so. Salaam set a school record for all-purpose yards for a single season during the game, and Stewart became the first player in Big Eight history to pass for 6,000 yards and rush for 1,000 in a career. He also topped the 2,000-yard mark for total offense for the third straight year, only the second player in the league to accomplish that feat.

COLORADO 51, KANSAS 26

Game Ten, November 12, 1994 (Attendance—35,000)

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Rashaan Salaam rushed for 232 yards and three touchdowns and Colorado rolled up 639 yards on offense, as the No. 7 Buffaloes cruised to an easy 51-26 win over the Kansas Jayhawks.

Kordell Stewart had 249 yards of total offense on the afternoon, including 202 passing. A 51-yard pass from Stewart to Michael Westbrook on a third down play on the opening drive paved the way for a Salaam 17-yard touchdown run. Later in the period, Stewart hooked up with Christian Fauria on a 9-yard scoring toss to make it 14-0. The Buffs never looked back from that point on, rolling to a 24-7 halftime lead and margins of 31-7, 44-14 and 51-20 in the second half.

It was a day of records for the CU offense, led by Salaam. In recording his third 200-plus rushing effort of the season, he eclipsed the CU single-season record for rushing yards, touchdowns and points, the latter of which broke a 57-year-old record held by Byron "Whizzer" White. Westbrook became CU's all-time leading receiver during the game, passing Charles Johnson, and Fauria moved to the top of the list for the most receptions by a tight end during a CU career. The 639 yards were the seventh most ever by a CU team, the second most on the road.

COLORADO 41, IOWA STATE 20

Game Eleven, November 19, 1994 (Attendance—46,113)

BOULDER—The Heisman Trophy candidate rushed for 2,000 yards. The All-Big Eight quarterback passed for 2,000 yards and became the league's all-time total offense leader. The tight end caught more balls than any before him in conference history. Oh, and the head coach resigned following the game. To say that Colorado's 41-20 win over Iowa State had its share of memorable moments would be an understatement.

Bill McCartney, CU's football coach since 1982, announced his resignation following the game, citing simply that he wanted to spend more time with his family. McCartney, the 20th head coach in CU history, compiled a 92-55-5 mark in 13 seasons at Colorado, exiting as the school's winningest coach ever (and the eighth most successful in the Big Eight).

The Buffaloes pretty much had their way all afternoon, though never really disposing of the stubborn Cyclones until the fourth quarter. Salaam, needing 204 yards coming into the game to become just the fourth player in NCAA annals to rush for 2,000 yards in a season, hit that plateau in style. Early in the fourth quarter on a 1st-and-10 from the CU 33, Salaam took the hand-off, darted quickly to his right, and raced 67 yards for a touchdown as the crowd went crazy. He left the game as the nation's leading rusher, scorer and all-purpose runner, and the score also gave CU a 34-13 lead, the first real breathing for the Buffs all afternoon.

Stewart went over the 2,000-yard mark in passing in the first half, so when Salaam joined him it made Colorado just the second team in 125 years of college football to boast both a 2,000-yard rusher and 2,000-yard passer. It was Stewart's third straight 2,000-plus year, as he became just the second to do that in Big Eight history. And late in the game, he became the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader, first on a pass to Christian Fauria, and then after a six-yard sack, on a nine-yard toss to Chris Anderson, the freshman's first collegiate catch. The pass to Fauria enabled the CU senior to become the Big Eight's all-time reception leader among tight ends.

Salaam and freshman Herchel Troutman both scored two touchdowns, with Stewart adding one and Neil Voskeritchian a pair of field goals. Colorado gained 576 yards on offense, propelling the Buffs to a record season (495.3 per game), while the defense held Iowa State to 243 yards, CU's best game of the year.

The win enabled the No. 7 Buffaloes to finish the regular season with a 10-1 mark, the second-best regular-season mark ever at CU since college football went to 11-game schedules in 1971. Iowa State finished the year at 0-10-1.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after the legendary CU Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 72nd season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop."

It was dedicated on Oct. 11, 1924, as CU defeated Regis College, 31-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street, honoring the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. The original Colorado Stadium had a seating capacity of 30,000, tripling that of the old Gamble Field.

With the addition of an upper deck in 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level pressbox facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to the present level of 51,748.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with AstroTurf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on Sept. 18 (the Buffs won 56-13). The original AstroTurf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history.

Colorado has played only three teams with number one rankings — Nebraska (0-3); Oklahoma (0-5) and Southern Cal (0-1). In seven of these games, the Buffs have given the nation's best a solid run for their money. Here's a look at each CU-#1 matchup (both AP & UPI/Coaches unless otherwise noted):

NOTE: Colorado is 1-1 as the nation's No. 1 team, losing 21-6 to Notre Dame in the 1990 Orange Bowl and defeating Notre Dame 10-9 in the 1991 Orange Bowl.

DID YOU KNOW . . . That despite not having beaten a #1 team, Colorado has twice knocked Oklahoma out of the #1 slot? CU's efforts in 1957 and 1975 knocked the Sooners from #1 to #2 in the AP poll.

RETIRED NUMBERS

#24 BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-America teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records. The scoring mark still stands.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team."

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall of Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team."

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked several years for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team."

THE NATIONAL PLAY-OF-THE-YEAR

In 1992, Nu Skin International and CoSIDA started sponsorship of "The National Play-of-the-Year," honoring the most outstanding play annually in college football. Notre Dame won the inaugural honor in 1992, but the University of Colorado won for both the 1993 and 1994 seasons. Here's a closer look at CU's winning plays:

1993 (October 16; Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10)
— Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson on the halfback option play. What made it special? Warren slipped on the slick artificial surface as he threw the ball, and some 40 yards later in the end zone, Johnson made the catch on the ground after he was interfered with. The play defied imagination, and is truly appreciated when looked at in slow motion.

1994 (September 24; Colorado 27, Michigan 26)
— Already called college football's play of the decade, this effort also won an Espy from ESPN for the play of the year in all of sports for 1994. As time expired, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, who made the catch after a Blake Anderson deflection. CU had trailed, 26-14, with under four minutes remaining, and trailed by five with 15 seconds left on its own 15-yard line after stopping Michigan on defense.

CU'S 1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

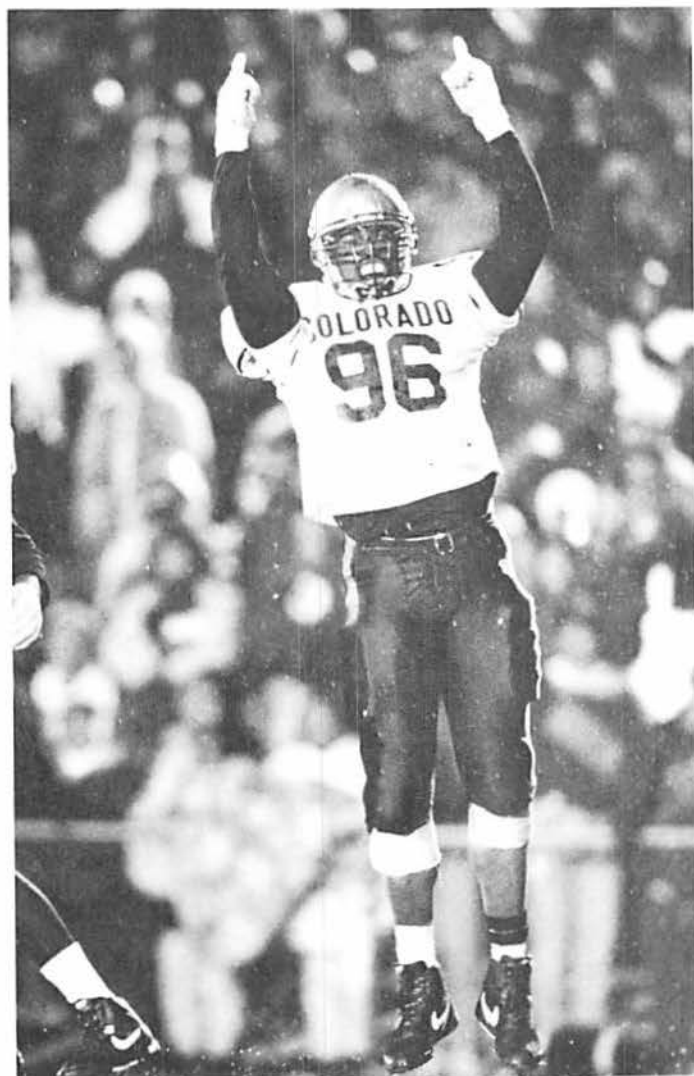

The 1990 edition of the University of Colorado football team accomplished two of the biggest "firsts" in its storied history. The Buffaloes played the nation's toughest schedule and posted an 11-1-1 record overall, with the win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl cementing the school's first national championship. For the second straight year, CU logged a 7-0 record in league play, marking the first time that the Buffs had claimed the Big Eight Conference title in back-to-back years.

Colorado had flirted with the national championship just one season earlier, owning an 11-0 regular season record and entering the Orange Bowl ranked as the nation's No. 1 team. A 21-6 loss to Notre Dame, however, ended CU's dream season and the Buffs finished No. 4 in the national polls. Little did anyone know at the time that the Buffaloes would have the chance to redeem themselves.

Questions prior to the start of the 1990 season included, "What do you do for an encore?" and "Is Colorado for real or was last season a fluke?" Coach Bill McCartney didn't set winning the national championship as the team goal; winning back-to-back Big Eight titles was what he wanted his men to aim for. Shooting for all the marbles includes too many variables that are out of a team's control, while one holds its own destiny in pursuit of a league title. McCartney is not the kind to set a national title as a goal, anyway.

Joe Garten

In the Associated Press preseason poll, the Buffs were ranked No. 5; it's first opponent, Tennessee in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic, was ranked No. 8.

Colorado overcame three first-quarter turnovers against the Volunteers (that was almost one-fourth of the entire turnover total of the season before) to lead 24-10 early in the fourth quarter. The Buffs couldn't sustain the lead, and Tennessee caught CU with the game ending in a 31-31 tie.

In game two, Eric Bieniemy scored on fourth-and-goal from the one with 12 seconds remaining to give CU a 21-17 win over Stanford. This was alarming in that Stanford had the worst record in 1989 of the five non-league teams on CU's schedule, along with the fact that the Cardinals led 14-0 at halftime and had stifled the high-powered CU offense.

Illinois dealt CU what proved to be its only loss of the season on Sept. 15, as the 23-22 defeat to the Illini sent the Buffs reeling to No. 20 in the polls. A game that Colorado should have won (CU led, 17-3, in the second quarter) turned into a loss and gave CU a 1-1-1 start. Talk of 1989 being a fluke started to surface, that CU had won only because of emotion in response to the death of quarterback Sal Aunese.

The next two games put the Buffaloes back on track, and ended talk that Colorado was not for real. Colorado's 29-22 win at No. 22 Texas, with CU rallying from a 22-14 deficit early in the fourth quarter, was the game that McCartney and the team point to as the turning point of the season. A 20-14 win over No. 12 Washington a week later reinforced the national opinion of the Buffaloes, as CU took over the No. 12 spot in the polls after its defeat of the Huskies.

Eric Bieniemy

Colorado came through the fierce non-league portion of its schedule with a 3-1-1 record and prepared to defend its Big Eight crown earned the season before. The Buffs topped Missouri, 33-31, in their league opener amid controversy of the now famous "fifth down." CU's Charles Johnson scored the game-winning touchdown as time expired on what turned out to be fifth down. The play, created through an incredible mistake by the officiating crew, and unnoticed by Missouri game administration and virtually everyone in the stadium, tainted the CU win and hurt the Buffs' image. Even though the Buffs defeated Iowa State, 28-12, the following week, Colorado had dropped back to No. 14 in the rankings though it sported a 5-1-1 record.

Still, the Buffaloes were off to a 2-0 start in league play, and improved to 3-0 with a 41-10 drubbing of Kansas at Lawrence in week three of the Big Eight season. The win pushed CU back into the top 10 (No. 10), with the Big Reds next up on the schedule.

Colorado knocked off Oklahoma, ranked No. 22 nationally, 32-23 to deal the one-time fourth-ranked Sooners their third straight defeat. The Buffs trailed, 14-6, late in the first half, with OU in position to kick a field goal. Greg Thomas skied to block the attempt, and quarterback Darian Hagan took over to lead the Buffs to a touchdown right before the halftime gun. Bieniemy broke free for a 69-yard TD run in the third quarter, and the Buffs pulled away in the final 15 minutes to dispose of the first of the Big Reds.

A week later, Colorado, now No. 9, traveled to Lincoln and defeated No. 3 Nebraska, 27-12, in rainy, cold and windy conditions. Bieniemy overcame five fumbles to score four touchdowns in the fourth quarter to rally the Buffaloes to the win. The end result was that Colorado had defeated both Oklahoma and Nebraska for the second straight year, and in back-to-back weeks, no less. The Buffs, with an 8-1-1 record, zoomed to No. 4 in the nation in the polls, and needed just one win in their last two games to get back to the Orange Bowl.

The Buffs steamrolled both Oklahoma State (41-22) and Kansas State (64-3) to finish the regular season at 10-1-1. The wins also marked the second straight year that CU took the Big Eight title with an undefeated 7-0 record in league play.

When Penn State knocked off Notre Dame hours after CU's win over K-State, the Buffs became the nation's new

No. 1 team. Thus, as was the case in 1989, the Buffaloes entered the Orange Bowl to defend the nation's top ranking against Notre Dame, the team that lost to hand CU the No. 1 claim.

Colorado had the rare chance to play for the national championship a second straight year, and this time around, the Buffs made the most of their opportunity. Colorado overcame the loss of Hagan and Kanavis McGhee to injuries in the first half, taking the lead for good in the third quarter in defeating the Irish, 10-9. The win kicked off a wild celebration by some 20,000-plus CU fans in Miami and hundreds of thousands back home in Colorado.

McCartney's ninth Colorado team attained its goals of claiming the Big Eight title in back-to-back years, and surpassed it by winning the national championship. In the process, CU established itself among the elite in college football.

BIG PLAYS "NOT IN THE BOXSCORE"

Often a play takes place which makes the difference between winning and losing, but it gets lost in the shuffle and then forgotten as time passes by. The following is a listing of some of these moments and the players who created them in the history of Colorado football:

Zack Jordan, 1952 vs. Oklahoma

CU tailback Zack Jordan's powerful right leg was the Buffs' best weapon in a 21-21 tie which was the Sooners' only blemish in what was to become a 47-game undefeated string. Jordan's 72-yard quick kick to the OU 3 set up CU's first TD. His 77-yarder put the Buffs in position for their second score. For good measure he added a 78-yard boot in the fourth period which quickly produced the setting for CU's final score. It was the finest exhibition of kicking in the nation that year and earned Jordan a spot in the NCAA record book. To make his day even more impressive, he scored all three CU touchdowns.

Frank Bernardi, 1954 vs. Missouri

It was a relatively meaningless game but Frank Bernardi played to the end as though it was for the Big Seven championship. CU's chances had faded a week earlier in Boulder with a bitter last quarter 13-6 loss to Oklahoma. The Buffs struggled to a 19-13 advantage over Missouri as time ran out in Columbia. When the Tigers scored with 1:06 left the winning PAT kick seemed a certainty. But Bernardi lined up wide at left end and used his sprinter speed to deflect the ball. The effort cost him two black eyes and a broken nose and a place in the CU record book for unlikely heroes.

John Bayuk, 1956 vs. Missouri

The forearm, not the pounding legs, of fullback John (The Beast) Bayuk provided the impetus for a 14-14 tie at Missouri which ultimately sent CU to its first Orange Bowl appearance. Beaten at the wire by Oklahoma in Boulder a week earlier, the Buffs could clinch a bowl bid with at least a tie with a Tiger team which had made a living annually by catching CU down after a tough battle with OU. Predictably, the Buffs struggled in this one, trailing 14-0 late in the third period. CU scored, then recovered a fumble at the Tiger 37. But Bob Stransky fumbled on first down. At the bottom of the pile, Bayuk was bitten by a Missouri lineman. Getting a reprieve with the 15-yard penalty, CU drove to a tying touchdown which was good enough to send them to Miami and a 27-21 win over Clemson on New Year's Day.

Chuck Weiss, 1959 vs. Oklahoma

A mighty effort by fullback Chuck Weiss preserved CU's 7-0 victory over Oklahoma, the first victory over the Sooners since the Buffs joined the Big Seven Conference. Colorado held a precarious one-touchdown lead late in the third quarter when OU quarterback Bennett Watts broke into the open from the Sooner 14. He headed for the end zone at full speed with Weiss, a power fullback not noted for his speed, in pursuit from his linebacker post on the far side of the field. Using his angle perfectly, Weiss caught Watts at the CU 17. The Buff defense held at the four and CU had a landmark triumph.

Hale Irwin, 1965 vs. Oklahoma

It was Eddie Crowder's third season at the helm and his CU team was on the way back from the depths of three straight 2-8 campaigns. A win over his alma mater's perennial Big Eight champions would be a big step forward for the Buffs. They led 10-0 nearing the half but the Sooners were rallying, driving to a first and goal with less than a minute left. The Oklahoma quarterback spotted the hole in the line and directed a play there. But CU safety Hale Irwin, better known for his golfing prowess, alertly jumped into the breach and helped jam up the play. The Sooners failed to score and CU went on to give Crowder a homecoming victory, 13-0.

Phil Irwin, 1969 vs. Oklahoma State

En route to a furious finish which saw them annihilate Alabama in the Liberty Bowl, CU needed a clutch last-second theft by linebacker Phil Irwin to preserve a 17-14 triumph over OSU in a game which CU had to win to keep its bowl hopes alive. After the Buffs seemingly had won the game with a touchdown with 1:22 left to play, the Cowboys launched an aerial attack which moved them to the CU five in less than a minute. There were 30 seconds remaining. A Cowboy receiver was open in the end zone. The ball was headed for him when Irwin came from nowhere to intercept it. When he downed the ball there was time for one play and the Buffs had taken a big step to Memphis.

John Stearns, 1971 Bluebonnet Bowl vs. Houston

Your team is up by six, 23-17, with seven minutes remaining in the bowl game and it's fourth-and-9 from your own 10-yard line. Punt, right? Don't tell that to John "Bad Dude" Stearns. Moments earlier, Stearns had knocked the ball out of tight end Riley Odoms' hands on fourth down in the end zone to prevent Houston from taking the lead in its home stadium. So perhaps still fired up, Stearns, who doubled as CU's punter, scooped up a bad center snap, looked around, and took off downfield for the first down. He needed nine yards, and the 12 he earned were the impetus the Buffs needed to take the ball in for the clinching score. The win gave CU its best record ever at the time, 10-2, and secured the nation's No. 3 ranking (behind Big Eight rivals Nebraska and Oklahoma).

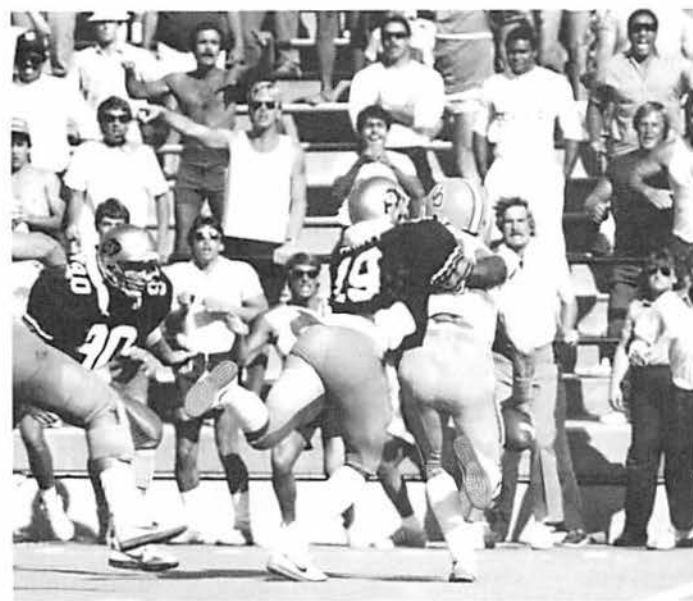

Steve Vogel and Derek Singleton, 1981 vs. Oklahoma State

Colorado is out of time outs, is faced with second-and-14 at its own 4, there's one minute left in the game, and Oklahoma State holds a 10-3 lead in Boulder. Quarterback Steve Vogel and tailback Derek Singleton would play key roles in one of the greatest comeback drives in CU history. Vogel hits Singleton on a 10-yard pass to get CU into and fourth-and-4 at its 14, and on fourth down, the two hooked up again on a 17-yard play for a first down. From there, it took CU just five plays to get into the end zone to pull to within 10-9. Vogel then found Singleton in the end zone for the two-point conversion and CU won, 11-10. There was some sadness to this story, as it would be the last time Singleton would touch the football in a game for Colorado. He was struck with spinal meningitis the next Friday and would be hospitalized in Ames, Iowa. He would later pass away on New Year's night in California.

Mickey Pruitt, 1985 vs. Oregon

It's year No. 4 of the Bill McCartney Era, and the second game of the season against Oregon in Boulder, while early, is important. A win would double CU's win total of the previous season and could provide momentum for CU's first winning team in six years. Oregon, trailing Colorado, 21-17, drives from its own 13 to the CU 3 and is faced with a fourth-and-goal with nine seconds left. The Buffs called for relentless pressure on Duck quarterback Chris Miller, the game obviously on the line. Miller was flushed out of the pocket, and before he could get the ball off, was sacked for a loss by sophomore safety Mickey Pruitt. The Buffs went on to finish the regular season with a 7-4 mark and earn their first bowl invitation since 1976.

Mickey Pruitt's last-second sack against Oregon in 1985.

Dan McMillen, 1985 vs. Kansas

On his way to setting the Colorado school record for most quarterback sacks in a game, Dan McMillen could have lost his head. Actually, it was just his helmet. As he chased down Kansas quarterback Mike Norseth for his fifth and record-setting sack, McMillen's helmet was knocked free. But that didn't stop the Buff senior outside linebacker from running down Norseth and making the tackle. CU won the game, 14-3, and went on to post its first winning season in seven years.

Darian Hagan, 1989 vs. Texas

The season opener against Texas in Boulder was filled with anticipation, as the Buffs were nationally ranked in the preseason for the first time in 12 years, and ESPN was in town to televise the game to the entire nation. On the second play of the game, quarterback Darian Hagan set all the butterflies free as he scampered 75 yards around the left side to the Texas 2, setting up CU's first touchdown and setting the tone for the game and CU's 11-0 regular season. The Buffs went on to build a 14-0 first quarter lead and a 27-6 win.

Deon Figures, 1990 vs. Washington

Colorado, at 2-1-1 on the season and riding high after an emotional 29-22 comeback win at Texas, leads No. 12 Washington, 20-14 in the final moments. The Huskies are faced with a fourth-and-goal at the CU 7 with 1:04 left, and quarterback Mark Brunell throws a lob pass in the direction of Mario Bailey in the end zone. However, CU sophomore Deon Figures is in the way, making the game-saving interception to preserve CU's victory. Later in the same season, Figures also made an interception at the end of CU's 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, a play which prevented Notre Dame from getting into field goal range. Figures picked off the Rick Mirer pass and ran out the clock, helping CU to the national championship.

David Gibbs, 1990 vs. Nebraska

This game on a cold and rainy day in Lincoln had both Big Eight title and national championship implications riding on the outcome. Colorado had just taken a 13-12 lead over Nebraska, rallying from a 12-0 deficit, but the Huskers were trying to mount a comeback. Faced with a fourth-and-3 on their own 28 and seven minutes remaining, Nebraska called for a fake punt, the snap going to the upback, Tim Johnk. But the play was sniffed out by David Gibbs, who stopped Johnk for only a two-yard gain, giving possession back to the Buffs. CU scored in just five plays to take a 20-12 lead, and went on to win, 27-12, CU's first win in Lincoln since 1967. Colorado jumped from No. 9 to No. 4 in the polls, eventually going on to win the national championship.

Ron Bradford, 1991 Orange Bowl vs. Notre Dame

Bradford, a sophomore who eventually would go on to play in the National Football League, saw action in 1990 mostly in nickel situations and on special teams. However, on this New Year's night, Bradford made one of the biggest plays in CU history. Midway through the second quarter, after Notre Dame scored a touchdown to take a 6-3 lead over the Buffs, Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Colorado rallied to win the game, 10-9, with that one-point margin, courtesy of Bradford, giving CU's its first national championship in football.

Jeff Brunner and Greg Thomas, 1991 vs. Nebraska

On a frosty night in Boulder before an ESPN national television audience, two plays stand out from a game that ended in a 19-19 tie, which would lead to Colorado and Nebraska sharing the 1991 Big Eight Conference championship. The first one is best remembered because it seemed to take five minutes for Greg Biekert to return a blocked extra point 85 yards for a defensive two-point conversion; however, the play was made possible because of Jeff Brunner's block. Then later, on the game's final play and after three CU timeouts, Greg Thomas skied high to block a Byron Bennett 41-yard field goal try to preserve the tie and CU's share of the title.

Blake Anderson, 1994 vs. Michigan

Anderson, the son of CU great and college football Hall-of-Fame member Dick Anderson, made his mark at CU primarily on special teams. In fact, he was so committed to special teams play that he earned an invitation to the Hula Bowl based on that commitment. But on Sept. 24 in Ann Arbor, and Colorado trailing Michigan 26-21 with only six seconds to go, Anderson played a huge role in what would become college football's play of the decade. As time expired, Kordell Stewart threw the ball over 70 yards downfield in the direction of a quartet of CU receivers: Anderson, Michael Westbrook, Rae Carruth and James Kidd. The play, "Rocket Jet," called for Anderson to be in position for a deflection, with the other three a few yards back to make the catch. The play, so improbable it rarely worked in practice, worked to perfection. Anderson tipped the ball to Westbrook, who landed in the end zone with 0:00 on the clock to give CU a 27-26 win.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

That several others also earn letters who are associated with the University of Colorado football program, even though they never dressed for a game? Student equipment managers and trainers who put in as many hours as the coaches also earn varsity letters for their efforts. Perhaps the most famous letterman at CU in this category is Steve Hatchell, the commissioner of the new Big 12 Conference. Hatchell earned four letters as a student manager in the 1960s, which back then included duties such as scout team quarterback, film coordinator and caring for the grass fields. After graduating from CU with a journalism degree, he went on to work full-time in the athletic department, first in the equipment office and then as co-sports information director. His travels took him to Colorado State (SID), the Big Eight Conference (assistant commissioner) and the Orange Bowl (executive director). Prior to his appointment as Big 12 commissioner, he was the commissioner of the South-west Athletic Conference.

Steve Hatchell

Leon White, 1977

Leon White, 1994

Leon White has a flair for the unique. He is believed to be the only person in Big Eight history (and one of just a handful nationally) to have lettered at three different positions since players stopped performing on both sides of the ball (which ended in the early 1960s). Leon lettered at offensive guard in 1974, at offensive tackle in 1975 and at center in 1977, earning all-America honors as a senior. Leon now makes his living as a professional wrestler, best known as the "Baby Bull" and "Vader."

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," as public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 selected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pared a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Bobby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight Championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bienenmy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century squad were Dick Anderson ('67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at defensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinch-hit for Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first black players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting department with the NFL Dallas Cowboys.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

DID YOU KNOW . . . Over the past two years, Colorado is tied with Florida State for the most players selected in the National Football League Draft. Both the Buffaloes and Seminoles had 16 players drafted when combining the 1994 and 1995 drafts; the teams tied for the most in 1995 with 10 each. In the 1995 draft, CU had seven players of the first 71 players selected, which is believed to be the most players ever selected from one school in the first 75 picks of any NFL Draft. Colorado has dominated the Big Eight in both draft picks as well as those going on to play in the NFL in the 1990's. At the end of 1994, CU had 24 players active in the NFL, by far the most of all the Big Eight schools, and the Buffs have also had a Big Eight best 36 players selected in this decade.

BOWL HISTORY

1938 COTTON BOWL

Rice 28, Colorado 14

Jan. 1, 1938 at Dallas, Texas

Colorado made its first bowl appearance ever, but the Buffs fell short to Rice 28-14, in the second annual Cotton Bowl. It was a one-man show for both teams, as All-Americans Byron "Whizzer" White (Colorado) and Ernie Lain (Rice) dominated for their respective squads. White was involved in both Colorado scores and Lain in all four Owl touchdowns.

Colorado led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, when White threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Antonio for the first TD, and then returned an interception 47 yards for a score minutes later. Rice battled back and scored 21 second-quarter points to take a 21-14 lead at the half. Lain threw two touchdowns and ran for another.

The Owls added another TD as the third period came to an even close when Joe Steene caught an eleven-yard pass from Lain. Lain and White were both named the outstanding players of the game.

Dal Ward's Buffs got first half touchdowns by John Bayuk, Howard Cook and Boyd Dowler to take the seemingly safe halftime lead. But Frank Howard's Tigers roared back to go ahead by 21-20 with 11:12 left in the game on a nine-yard run by fullback Bob Spooner.

But the Buffs sucked it up and drove 53 yards for the winning score after a Clemson inside kick attempt following the TD had failed. Eddie Dove carried four times and Bayuk three in the drive, with Bayuk getting the TD from the one-yard line with 7:13 left to play. Ellwin Indorf's kick gave CU its final winning margin. But it still took a pass interception at the Colorado 17-yard line by Bob Stransky to nail down the decision.

1962 ORANGE BOWL

Louisiana State 25, Colorado 7

Jan. 1, 1962 at Miami, Florida

Jittery Colorado was out-classed by LSU's smooth football hordes, and the Buffs lost a 25-7 decision in the 28th Orange Bowl Classic before 62,391 onlookers.

Coach Paul Dietzel's SEC Champions spotted Colorado an early 7-5 lead on Buff defender Loren Schweninger's 59-yard pass interception return for a score, then methodically dismantled the Big Seven Champions.

LSU took the lead for good in the second period, marching 82 yards for the score with Chuck Crawford going in from the one with 8:57 left in the first half to give the Tigers an 11-7 halftime margin.

The Tigers scored twice in the third period to put the game away quickly, going 43 yards after a poor Charlie McBride punt and blocking another McBride punt for a touchdown just as the third quarter ended.

Sonny Grandelius' Buffs managed only 143 yards in total offense against the LSU "Chinese Bandit" defense, while the Tigers got 343 yards. CU had come into the game with a 9-1 mark, losing to Utah and winning all seven Big Eight games.

1957 ORANGE BOWL

Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Jan. 1, 1957 at Miami, Florida

Big Seven runner-up Colorado stormed out of the chute and had ACC champ Clemson down 20-0 at the half as 72,552 fans yawned and went for refreshments at the 23rd Orange Bowl Classic.

But a lot of those drinks were spilled in the second half as Clemson rallied to take a 21-20 lead in the final period before the resurgent Buffs buckled up and drove for the winning score to take their first bowl triumph in history by 27-21.

1967 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Colorado 31, Miami, Fla. 21

Dec. 23, 1967 at Houston, Texas

Soph quarterback Bobby Anderson ignored a painful ankle problem and ignited Colorado's 31-21 Bluebonnet Bowl win over Miami of Florida in Rice Stadium.

The 19-year-old Boulder-bred signal caller led the Buffs on an 80-yard TD march in the third period to give the Herd a 17-14 lead. Then, after the Hurricanes had gone back into the lead again, Anderson sped 38 yards for a touchdown with 6:55 left in the game to put CU back ahead by 24-21. Anderson then took the Buffs 34 yards for another score with 1:02 to play after Isaac Howard had picked off a Miami pass at the Hurricane 34-yard line.

Anderson was the complete player in winning game MVP honors, running for 108 yards on 17 carries, scoring two touchdowns on runs of 38 and 2 yards, and passing for 49 yards on 5 of 10 attempts. Oddly, Anderson did not start the game, giving way to fleet Dan Kelley because of his bothersome ankle. Bobby entered the game in the second period with Miami ahead, 14-7.

1969 LIBERTY BOWL

Colorado 47, Alabama 33

Dec. 13, 1969 at Memphis, Tennessee

All-American tailback Bobby Anderson and his herd of Bison stamped into Memphis and outslugged Alabama, 47-33, before 50,042 fans and a nationwide television audience. It was the first post-season appearance by CU since the 1967 Bluebonnet Bowl and showcased Colorado's return to national prominence.

Anderson, a bullish 6-0, 208-pounder from Boulder, capped his All-America campaign by rushing for a Liberty Bowl record 254 yards and scoring three touchdowns. It gave him a total of 5,017 yards in total offense for his career and enabled him to become the first Big Eight player ever to hit the 5,000-yard mark for a career.

Fullback Ward Walsh scored twice on short runs, Dave Haney kicked a 30-yard field goal, Anderson scored from the two, and Steve Engel and Bob Masten collaborated on a 91-yard kickoff return as CU stormed to a 31-19 halftime lead.

A total of 16 new Liberty bowl records were set in the long and exciting afternoon in Memphis Memorial Stadium before ABC-TV sports cameras.

1970 LIBERTY BOWL

Tulane 17, Colorado 3

Dec. 12, 1970 at Memphis, Tennessee

Hungry Tulane ruined Colorado's return to the Liberty Bowl and the Green Wave walked off with a stunning 17-3 upset of the Buffs as 44,640 fans shivered in the cold at Memphis Memorial Stadium.

Colorado, playing without injured quarterback Jimmy Bratten, and going with soph Paul Arendt, mounted little offense and fell to the emotional Tulane effort. CU had come into the game only 6-4, but had upset powers Penn State and Sugar Bowl-bound Air Force during the season.

CU got only a 33-yard field goal from Dave Haney and managed only 175 yards in total offense after leading the Big Eight with a per-game average of almost 425 yards.

Tulane's David Abercrombie returned a second half kickoff 66 yards and scored himself on runs of two and four yards to cap drives that broke a 3-3 halftime tie and sent Tulane to its win over the Buffaloes. Linebacker Rick Kingrea set up the second tally with a 44-yard interception return off Arendt in the final period.

1971 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Colorado 29, Houston 17

Dec. 31, 1971 at Houston, Texas

Colorado sophomore tailback Charlie Davis returned to his home town and ripped host Houston for a whopping 202 yards on 37 carries as the Buffs whipped the Cougars, 29-17, in the 13th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Classic at the Astrodome.

Davis scored twice and was a one-man show in the first half. CU took a 23-14 lead into the dressing rooms thanks to a 27-yard run by Davis, a TD pass of five yards from Ken Johnson to Larry Brunson, a 32-yard field goal by J. B. Dean, and another TD run by Davis.

Houston, behind the running of Robert Newhouse, roared back to narrow the margin to 23-17 with 2:16 left in the third quarter as Mike Terrell kicked a 29-yard field goal. Newhouse, who lost out to Davis for the game's MVP Award, had 168 yards on 35 carries and also scored twice.

Safety John Stearns was a Colorado hero in the fourth period, running with his faked punt from his own 10 to his 22 for a crucial first down after Houston had turned the momentum around and narrowed the margin to just a touchdown on the Terrell field goal. Stearns then knocked down a sure TD pass on fourth down with the Cougs at the CU nine. The Buffs turned that one around and marched for the clinching tally with 3:48 left in the game.

1972 GATOR BOWL

Auburn 24, Colorado 3

Dec. 30, 1972 at Jacksonville, Florida

Auburn, an 11-point underdog to Colorado, took command in the second period and went on to beat the Buffs, 24-3, in the 28th Gator Bowl Classic before 71,114 fans.

It was 17-0 in favor of the Tigers before CU got on the board with just 7:31 left in the game on a Freddie Lima field goal. Auburn shut off the fearsome Colorado rushing attack with just 63 yards in 29 attempts and forced Buff quarterback Ken Johnson to the air.

Auburn, sixth-ranked in the nation, took it to Colorado by capitalizing on two CU fumbles and two pass thefts. Johnson, who had directed Colorado to an 8-3 season coming into the game, hit on 17 of 29 passes for 169 yards, but the Buff running game was shut down.

Garner Jett's 27-yard field goal and a fumble recovery at the Colorado 16-yard line a minute later led to the 10-0 halftime lead for Auburn. Then, in the second half, wingback Mike Fuller hit tight end Rob Spivey with a 22-yard TD pass and holder Dave Beck threw a 16-yard TD pass off a fake field goal to Dan Nugent to ice the win.

1975 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Texas 38, Colorado 21

Dec. 27, 1975 at Houston, Texas

Colorado rolled up a commanding 21-7 halftime lead over Texas, then kicked it away as the Longhorns rallied to a 38-21 win in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in the Houston Astrodome before 52,748.

In the first half, Colorado rolled up a commanding 16-5 edge in first downs, an edge of 225-89 in total yards, and a 48-20 edge in plays to go ahead 21-7. CU fullback Terry Kunz scored on a one-yard dive with 2:29 left in the first period, quarterback David Williams threw a four-yard TD pass to Dave Logan with 12:42 left in the second period, then added a 25-yard scoring aerial to huge end Don Hasselbeck with 0:24 left to play to make the 21-7 margin.

But Kunz opened the second half with a costly fumble at the Buff 34 and Texas halfback Jimmy Walker scored eight plays later to make it 21-13. UT end Tim Campbell blocked a CU punt a minute later and roared 25 yards for the TD. A two-point conversion pass from quarterback Marty Akins to full-back Earl Campbell tied the game at 21-21 with 10:56 left in the third quarter.

Texas kicker Russell Erxleben's record 55-yard field goal with 6:25 left in the third period gave the Longhorns a 24-21 lead. Fleet Johnny Jones scored from four yards out with 3:15 left in the third period giving the Horns a 31-21 lead that stood up.

1985 FREEDOM BOWL

Washington 20, Colorado 17

Dec. 30, 1985 at Anaheim, California

Washington staved off a pair of late Colorado rallies and held on to defeat the Buffaloes, 20-17, in the second annual Freedom Bowl before 30,961 in attendance at Anaheim Stadium.

It was close throughout. Washington took a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Jeff Jaeger. The Buffs came back to take what would be their only lead of the night early in the second quarter. Fullback Anthony Weatherspoon scored from a yard out and Larry Eckel added the point after to give CU a 7-3 lead. The Huskies' David Toy scored on a three-yard run and Jaeger added the point with only 30 seconds left in the first half to put Washington up 10-7 at intermission.

Eckel tied the score at 10-10 with a 33-yard field goal with 8:41 left in the third quarter, but Washington countered three minutes later with a one-yard scoring run by Tony Covington for a 17-10 lead. Jaeger added an 18-yard field goal three seconds into the fourth quarter to make it 20-10.

All-American punter Barry Helton threw out of punt formation to Jon Embree for a dazzling 31-yard touchdown pass and Eckel added the extra point with 11:05 to go to pull CU to within three. The Buffs would get no closer, but had the ball at inside the Husky 10 in the final five minutes. Halfback Mike Marquez fumbled the ball at the two ending the drive, although television replays indicated the ground may have caused the fumble.

The game capped CU's turnaround season, as the Buffs went from 1-10 the previous year to 7-5 and captured the NCAA's most-improved team honor.

Marquez led the Buffs with 80 yards on 10 carries, while Chris Chandler led the Huskies with 72 yards on seven tries. It was a defensive game, with each team committing just a single turnover, but Washington was penalized 13 times for 88 yards on the evening.

1977 ORANGE BOWL

Ohio State 27, Colorado 10

Jan. 1, 1977 at Miami, Florida

Colorado returned to the Orange Bowl as Big Eight co-champions for the first time since 1961, but Ohio State's defense and an injury to CU middle guard Charlie Johnson in the first half killed CU's chances in a 27-10 Buckeye win before 65,537.

Colorado opened with a bang, getting ahead 10-0 in the first period on a 26-yard field goal by Mark Zetterberg with 5:56 elapsed, then a touchdown pass of 11 yards from soph quarterback Jeff Knapple to wingback Emery Moorehead with 3:43 left.

But Johnson went down with a broken ankle, and Ohio State coach Woody Hayes substituted fleet Rod Gerald at quarterback for the often-sacked Tom Pacenta and the Buckeye offense came alive in the second period.

OSU tailback Jeff Logan rambled for a 36-yard touchdown up the middle as the first period came to an end, then the Bucks tied it on a 28-yard field goal by Tom Skladany with 9:29 left in the half.

Ohio State put on a 99-yard drive capped by fullback Pete Johnson's three-yard run with 0:20 left in the half to take a 17-10 lead which stood up until Skladany added another 20-yard field goal with 2:30 left in the third quarter to make it 20-10 in favor of OSU.

The Buffs could not do anything offensively in the second half, and a pass interception at the Colorado 28 with 3:08 left led to the final Ohio State touchdown and the winning margin of 27-10.

1986 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Baylor 21, Colorado 9

Dec. 31, 1986 at Houston, Texas

Baylor turned two Colorado turnovers into touchdowns and then thwarted two Buff scoring threats in the fourth quarter as the Bears defeated CU, 21-9, before 40,470 in attendance at Rice Stadium in the 28th Bluebonnet Bowl.

Baylor drew first blood with 3:34 left in the first quarter on a one-yard plunge by Derrick McAdoo. Colorado countered two drives later with a 36-yard field goal by Dave DeLine to slice the lead to 7-3 early in the second stanza. But the Buffs turned the ball over on their own eight and it took Baylor three plays to score to extend the lead to 14-3, which stood at intermission.

CU turned the ball over on its second play from scrimmage in the second half and McAdoo scored again from a yard out to put Baylor up 21-3. The Buffs finally put six on the board late in the quarter on a 31-yard touchdown run by Mark Hatcher, but CU couldn't convert the two and score remained 21-9 in favor of the Bears.

The Buffs twice had the ball deep in Baylor territory in the fourth quarter, but the Bear defense held as CU couldn't convert either time on fourth down. In a game dominated by defense, Baylor outgained Colorado 279-194. Each team had 12 first downs, and the Buff defense held the Bears to over 200 yards under its per-game average for the season.

Brigham Young's only lead of the game came when it counted the most, as Jason Chaffetz' 35-yard field goal with 2:33 remaining in the fourth quarter rallied the Cougars to a 20-17 win over Colorado in the fifth annual Freedom Bowl.

The Buffs turned a BYU turnover into seven points just two-and-one-half minutes into the game, as Eric Bieniemy scored from one yard out to cap a six-play, 49-yard drive. Pat Blottiaux's PAT kick put CU up 7-0, but the Cougars tied the score some seven minutes later on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Sean Covey to Mike Salido.

Bieniemy's second touchdown of the game, also from a yard out, enabled CU to forge a 14-7 lead with 1:04 left in the half. The margin stood at halftime.

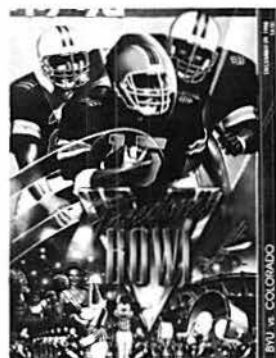

The Buffs blew several scoring opportunities, twice penetrating the BYU 20 and coming away empty. In the meantime, Ty Detmer's 14-yard scoring strike to Chuck Cutler knotted the score at 14 after three quarters. Blottiaux made good on a 19-yard field goal early in the fourth to give CU its last lead (17-14), but Chaffetz countered with a 31-yarder before nailing the game winner in the final minutes.

Colorado outgained the Cougars, 337-320, on the evening, but its on mistakes and penalties (nine, the most in CU bowl history), added up to the fifth straight bowl loss by the Buffaloes.

1990 ORANGE BOWL

Notre Dame 21, Colorado 6

Jan. 1, 1990 at Miami, Florida

Fullback Anthony Johnson's second touchdown run of the game late in the fourth quarter put an end to Colorado's undefeated season and national championship hopes as Notre Dame defeated the Buffaloes, 21-6.

Colorado came into the game with an 11-0 record and its first-ever No. 1 national ranking. The Buffs appeared headed to the national championship in the first half, as CU dominated the line of scrimmage in gaining 186 first-half yards, but couldn't convert on three golden scoring opportunities. Instead of leading 17- or 21-0 at halftime, the Buffs found themselves in a scoreless deadlock, and that thanks to Gary Howe's block of a Notre Dame field goal attempt at the intermission gun.

The Irish took control of the game in the third quarter, using a two-yard scoring run by Johnson and a 35-yard touchdown run on a reverse by Raghib Ismail to take a 14-0 lead midway through the period. Colorado sliced the lead to 14-6 on a spectacular 39-yard run by Darian Hagan to close the quarter, but the PAT kick sailed wide by Ken Culbertson, leaving the Buffs eight points back.

Johnson's second touchdown, a seven-yard effort, culminated a mammoth 17-play, 82-yard drive which ate up almost nine minutes of the clock. The Buffs got the ball back with 1:32 left in the game, and after Mike Pritchard returned the Irish kickoff 28 yards to the CU 41, could not get anything going prior to time running out.

1991 ORANGE BOWL

Colorado 10, Notre Dame 9

Jan. 1, 1991 at Miami, Florida

In an Orange Bowl where there was no shortage of heroes for Colorado, the Buffaloes toppled Notre Dame, 10-9, enabling the school to claim its first-ever national championship in football. CU overcame two key injuries in rallying in the second half for the victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Buffaloes drew first blood on a 22-yard field goal by Jim Harper three minutes into the second quarter. Notre Dame came right back, marching 62 yards in nine plays, with Ricky Watters scoring from two yards out. The score remained at 6-3, however, as CU's Ronnie Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Just prior to halftime, CU lost the services of quarterback Darian Hagan (knee injury) and outside linebacker Kanavis McGhee (shoulder). Both missed the remainder of the game.

Hentrich booted a 24-yard field goal early in the second half to extend the Irish lead to 9-3. Charles S. Johnson took over at quarterback for the Buffs, with Notre Dame stopping CU cold on its first possession of the second half. On the first play of the next Notre Dame drive, Chad Brown forced Watters to fumble, with Paul Rose, subbing for McGhee, making the recovery.

Johnson, his feet now wet, coolly directed the Buffaloes to the go-ahead touchdown. Eric Bienenmy's one-yard touchdown run and Jim Harper's extra point kick late in the third quarter rallied CU into the lead. The Buffalo defense then held Notre Dame in check, as the Irish held on to the ball for only less than four minutes the rest of the game, mustering only 35 yards of total offense after CU went on top.

Colorado's road to the national championship wasn't without a late scare. Notre Dame's Raghib Ismail broke loose on a punt return with less than a minute remaining, appearing to run 91 yards for a score, but CU's Tim James was clipped on the play, nullifying the gain.

Bienenmy rushed for a game-high 86 yards on 28 carries, with Johnson earning the MVP honor, completing five of six passes for 80 yards. The win, which gave CU an 11-1-1 record for the season, also snapped a seven-game CU bowl losing streak.

Jay Barker threw three touchdown passes and David Palmer scored twice to lead No. 8 Alabama to a 30-25 victory over No. 13 Colorado in the second annual Blockbuster Bowl.

Palmer scored the game's first points on a 52-yard punt return six minutes into the first quarter. The Buffaloes tied the score at 7-7 late in the quarter on a one-yard run by Scott Phillips, which was set up a Ron Woolfork blocked punt. Ted Johnson tackled Martin Houston in the endzone for a safety early in the second quarter, and then the teams traded field goals to enable CU to take a 12-10 lead at halftime.

Barker hooked up with Siran Stacy for a 13-yard touchdown play in the third quarter, only to see the Buffs come back 18 seconds later on a 62-yard scoring strike from Darian Hagan to Michael Westbrook. Barker added a 12-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Lee later in the quarter to give the Crimson Tide a 23-19 lead after three quarters. Barker and Palmer connected on a five-yard TD pass with 8:10 left in the game to put Alabama ahead 30-19, but the Buffs cut the lead to five on a 13-yard pass from Hagan to Charles Johnson with 3:30 left.

Colorado got the ball back with 1:49 left and drove to the 'Bama 33 yard line before being stopped on a fourth-and-one play with 40 seconds left. Alabama outgained CU, 307-199, running more plays (81-60) and holding on to the ball for 38:10. The game marked the debut of CU's new one-back, pass-oriented offense.

1993 FIESTA BOWL

Syracuse 26, Colorado 22

Jan. 1, 1993 at Phoenix, Arizona

Kirby Dar Dar's 100-yard kickoff return at the end of the third quarter proved to be the winning points as the No. 6 Syracuse Orangemen defeated the No. 10 Colorado Buffaloes in the 22nd annual Fiesta Bowl.

A defensive battle in the first half saw Colorado go into intermission with a 7-6 lead, as the teams combined for just 226 total yards. A pair of John Biskup field goals saw the Orange take a 6-0 lead, but with 10 seconds left in the half, Kordell Stewart threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Sean Embree on fourth down, with Mitch Berger's PAT kick giving CU the slim one-point lead at the half.

The third quarter proved to be both pivotal and wild, with 29 points scored in just over a six-minute span. David Walker's 13-yard run with 6:22 left in the quarter put Syracuse back on top, 12-7, with a two-point conversion pass falling incomplete. Berger nailed a 38-yard field goal on CU's next possession to cut the lead to 12-10, but the 'Cuse went back up 19-10 on a spectacular 28-yard run by quarterback Marvin Graves. Stewart led the Buffs on an 82-yard drive in just over a minute, completing the march with a 16-yard TD pass to Charles Johnson, but Berger missed the point after and the score stood at 19-16.

Dar Dar performed his heroics on the next kickoff, rambling 100 yards as time expired in the quarter. Lamont Warren scored the day's final points on a six-yard run late in the game, with Berger again missing the PAT try. The Buffs got the ball back in the final minute, but could not muster a scoring drive.

The Buffaloes outgained the Orange, 370-265, including a 217-64 edge in the passing game. Syracuse neutralized the CU offensive attack by netting 178 yards on kickoff returns.

Rashaan Salaam rushed for 135 yards and three touchdowns to lead the No. 17 Colorado Buffaloes to a convincing 41-30 victory over the No. 24 Fresno State Bulldogs in the 12th annual Aloha Bowl.

The Buffs zoomed to a 17-0 lead, scoring on their first three possessions of the game. Salaam and James Hill scored on short touchdown runs, sandwiched around a Mitch Berger field goal, as CU went up 17-0 with 9:18 left in the half. After trading field goals, Fresno State pulled as close as it would get at intermission on a fluke play. Berger's squib kickoff was first fumbled by the Bulldogs' Jamie Christian, then recovered by Malcolm Seabron and returned 68 yards for a touchdown. The play pulled FSU to within 20-10 at halftime.

Salaam sprinted into the endzone from 40 yards out early in the second half, putting the daylight back into the CU lead (27-10). Fresno never got closer than 10 the remainder of the game.

The Buffs held Fresno State to just three rushing yards on the day, but the Bulldogs did put an all-time best of 523 passing yards on the board against CU (though 333 came after CU took the 27-10 lead). Salaam was named Colorado's Most Valuable Player for the game, while Chris Hudson was the game's MVP on defense. Hudson had seven tackles, two forced fumbles, two recoveries, a quarterback sack and a pass deflection.

1995 FIESTA BOWL

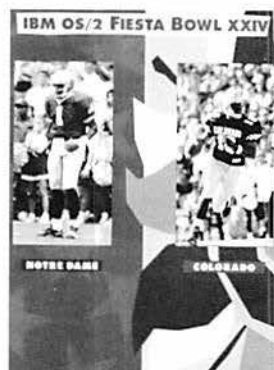

Colorado 41, Notre Dame 24

Jan. 2, 1995 at Tempe, Arizona

Kordell Stewart amassed 348 yards of total offense and he received plenty of help on both offense and defense as the Colorado Buffaloes easily defeated Notre Dame, 41-24, in the 24th annual Fiesta Bowl.

The game was Bill McCartney's "swan song" as CU head coach, with the win giving him a final record over 13 seasons of 93-55-5, the winningest in Colorado history.

Stewart, named the game's most valuable player, had 268 total yards in the first half alone, when the Buffs built a commanding 31-3 lead with 1:05 remaining. For the game, he rushed seven times for 143 yards and a touchdown and completed 11 of 20 passes for 205 yards and another score.

Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam rushed for 83 yards and three touchdowns, including back-to-back scores in the final five minutes of the first half that helped break the game open.

On defense, the Buffs switched from the 3-4 to the 4-3 for the game, and the result yielded relentless pressure on Irish freshman quarterback Ron Powlus. CU had seven sacks, including three by the defensive MVP in the game, Shannon Clavelle, along with 12 pressures. Butkus Award runner-up Ted Johnson led all players with 20 tackles, with two for losses and an interception.

The Buffs scored on five of their first six possessions, with Stewart the key fixture on each. He had a 29-yard run on CU's first touchdown drive, a 35-yard dash on the second, a 16-yard run and 46-yard pass to James Kidd on the third, and a 12-yard run to the 1-yard line on the fourth. And after Notre Dame had closed to within 31-17 late in the third quarter, Stewart sprinted 41 yards to set up a field goal, and threw a 37-yard pass to Kidd enroute to CU's final score.

The Buffs amassed 472 yards on offense in just 23:43 of possession time, playing nearly the perfect game. CU did not commit a turnover and averaged just under eight yards per play in finishing the season with an 11-1 record and No. 3 national ranking.

SPRING FOOTBALL HISTORY

Spring football has been unique at Colorado for a couple of reasons. First, the Buffaloes used to play the oldest alumni game in the country, and second, Colorado actually plays two spring games.

Spring practice has for the most part ended with a game between the Colorado Varsity and Alumni. Back at the turn of the century, an Alumni team usually served as the season opener for the varsity (13 times all told, with the Varsity owning an 11-0-2 edge in those games). The Varsity held a 20-3 edge in the old format of the spring series, which started back in 1953 under then head coach Dal Ward. After a pair of games, the series became dormant until 1963 when it was revived by Eddie Crowder. There was no game between 1974 and 1976, and the 1978 game was cancelled due to a blizzard.

A new format for the Varsity-Alumni game (implemented in 1988) had the alumni playing in the first and third quarters, with the first team of the varsity playing the second and fourth quarters. They were pitted against the second- and third-team members of the varsity, resulting in a competitive and fun game. The alumni and first-team varsity always wore black. This format was discontinued following 1992 for competitive reasons.

The all-time results of the Varsity-Alumni game:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1953 — Varsity, 6-0		2,300	1979 — Varsity, 31-0		5,277
1954 — Varsity, 7-6		1,200	1980 — Varsity, 24-14		4,688
1963 — Alumni, 14-6		11,500	1981 — Varsity, 24-0		3,369
1964 — Alumni, 10-7		10,000	1982 — Varsity, 35-15		4,144
1965 — Varsity, 13-12		6,000	1983 — Varsity, 42-0		3,804
1966 — Varsity, 23-6		10,500	1984 — Varsity, 14-6		4,023
1967 — *Varsity, 29-16		3,500	1985 — Varsity, 24-0		4,211
1968 — Alumni, 23-0		7,500	1986 — Varsity, 31-7		3,855
1969 — Varsity, 37-10		9,000	1987 — Varsity, 24-0		2,235
1970 — Varsity, 41-12		6,500	1988 — *Black, 23-14		2,750
1971 — Varsity, 13-0		4,500	1989 — *White, 38-35		13,642
1972 — Varsity, 28-0		8,500	1990 — *White, 27-25		11,336
1973 — Varsity, 14-13		6,500	1991 — *Black, 21-17		10,382
1977 — Varsity, 43-27		9,000	1992 — *Black, 44-7		9,618

*—played in Denver due to stadium expansion; *—First-team varsity and alumni wore black jerseys, remainder of varsity white jerseys.

The format for the game in 1993 and 1994 was to pit the first-team offense and defense against the remainder of the squad. The results of this series:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1993 — White, 24-13		2,500	1994 — Black, 45-3		1,650

An intrasquad game was started in 1987 and was dubbed the "Black and White Game" (now the "Silver and Gold" Game). The team is divided by the coaching staff into two units of equal strength. The tradition of the game is that the winners get steak and crab at training table; the losers get franks and beans. A look at this series:

Year	Score	Year	Score	Attend.
1987 — Black, 6-3		1995 — Silver, 20-6		2,600
1988 — White, 7-3
1989 — Black, 14-10
1990 — White, 14-10
1991 — Black, 28-9
1992 — Black, 22-19
1993 — Black, 17-7
1994 — White, 14-7

One of the most emotional moments in CU football history came at halftime of the 1989 spring game, when the varsity and alumni saluted cancer-stricken quarterback Sal Aunese (center). Aunese passed away on Sept. 23 later than same year.

THE BIG EIGHT CONFERENCE

The University of Colorado is beginning its 47th year with the conference after being accepted into the league on Dec. 1, 1947 when the Big Six Conference changed to the Big Seven.

The Big Eight Conference, the official name of the league since 1964 when the old title Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MVIAA) was dropped, ranks as one of the strongest, most well-balanced, and most successful conferences in the country. The league is entering its 88th, and final, season of competition.

Three of the present members of the Big Eight — the University of Kansas, the University of Missouri, and the University of Nebraska — helped form the original organization on Jan. 12, 1907, with the University of Iowa and Washington University of St. Louis as the other charter members.

Iowa State University, then known as Ames College, and Drake University were added in 1908 to expand to seven schools. Iowa dropped to enter the Big Ten after the 1910-11 college years.

Kansas State University, then known as Kansas State College of Applied Science and Agriculture, was admitted in 1913. Grinnell (Iowa) College joined in 1919 and the University of Oklahoma in 1920. Oklahoma State University, then known as Oklahoma A&M College, withdrew from the Southwest Conference in 1925 to increase the conference to an all-time high 10 teams.

In a meeting at Lincoln, Neb., on May 19, 1928, six of the seven state institutions — Oklahoma A&M was the exception — formally organized a separate conference, MVIAA or the Big Six Conference. Colorado's addition made it the Big Seven and Oklahoma

State rejoined its old MVIAA mates as a member on June 1, 1957, to change the name to the Big Eight.

The Big Eight solidified its national reputation last spring, as on February 25, 1994, it was announced that Baylor, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech accepted invitations to join the conference. The new 12-team league will be known as the Big 12, commencing in the fall of 1996, with divisional play in football and men's and women's basketball. Colorado will be a member of one division, which includes Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri and Nebraska, while the other six will compete in a second division.

The faculty athletic representatives (persons of professional rank who do not receive pay primarily for services rendered in connection with athletics or physical education) at each institution serve as the policy-directing group of the conference. The directors of athletics serve as the operating body or administrative agency, with the senior women's administrators also playing a key role.

Carl James is in his 15th year as the Commissioner of the Big Eight. The conference headquarters are located at 104 W. Ninth Street, Suite 408, in Kansas City, Mo. The office telephone number is 816/471-5088.

Prentice Gault is the senior associate commissioner and Tim Allen is the assistant commissioner, while Jeff Bollig handles the service bureau. John McClintock is the supervisor of football officials.

COLORADO RADIO NETWORK

The Colorado Football Network originates in Denver with KOA-Radio (850am) feeding the broadcast to 24 radio stations in the Rocky Mountain region.

85 KOA
NEWSRADIO

CU and KOA are entering the last year of a five-year contract, as the 50,000-watt Denver station and the Buffs were reunited in 1985. KOA did the CU broadcasts from 1940 until 1982. This is the third contract between CU and KOA since 1985, as the first two were three-year agreements.

Larry Zimmer handles the play-by-play chores with former CU All-American Bobby Anderson handling both pre- and postgame shows. As of press time, the color analyst had yet to be determined.

Zimmer is in his 22nd season of doing CU football, as he was the voice of the Buffs from 1971 to 1981. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Zimmer previously had done play-by-play for four years (1966-69) at the University of Michigan (for both football and basketball). He also does play-by-play on Denver Bronco broadcasts, teaming with former CU All-American Dave Logan. Zimmer also was selected the Sportscaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasting Association in 1988, 1990 and 1991.

KOA also originates the Rick Neuheisel Talk Show, heard Wednesdays at 6:00 p.m. during the season. The show, which is originated from the Clarion Harvest House in Boulder, goes out on the entire network and solicits callers from around the state.

COLORADO TELEVISION NETWORK

NEWS4
COLORADO

The University of Colorado and KCNC-TV will enter their 12th straight year together in one of the most unique television arrangements in college football. The Buffaloes are one of very few teams to have their games produced and shown by a major network affiliate.

In addition to airing "The Rick Neuheisel Show," the CBS affiliate (Channel 4 in Denver) will also originate at least five broadcasts this fall of CU games, both home and away. KCNC started to produce CU games live in 1985, and the station has done 47 such broadcasts since that season. It's been a good omen when KCNC has been on hand, as the Buffaloes are 41-5-1 in games produced by the station.

Another unique part of the CU-KCNC relationship has been when KCNC cannot televise the game live (usually due to starting times or College Football Association conflicts), the station farms the game out to KTVD (Channel 20) in Denver, or has shown the game on a tape delayed basis. In 1994, the average rating was a 13.0 with a 40 share, both very healthy numbers.

Les Shapiro will handle the television play-by-play for the sixth straight season. Shapiro is KCNC's main sports anchor on the 5 and 10 p.m. news, which is rated number one in both time periods. Dave Logan is entering his 11th year as color analyst, as the former CU All-American also hosted Bill McCartney's TV show for seven years. Logan was selected Sportscaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasting Association in 1992 and 1994. Mark McIntosh is in his eighth year as the station's chief CU reporter and sideline reporter on broadcasts, and is in his third year of hosting the coach's show.

MEDIA SERVICES

Colorado

Press Luncheons: Rick Neuheisel will hold Monday press conferences starting Sept. 4 through Nov. 20 in the Dal Ward Center. Lunch is served at 11:30 a.m., with Neuheisel starting the conference at Noon.

Big Four Huddle: A regional college football luncheon is held Tuesdays (11 a.m. to 1 p.m.) at Norwest Bank in Denver, and includes telephone and in-person interviews with coaches and players from four area colleges: CU, Colorado State, Air Force and Wyoming. All members of the media are invited to attend.

Video Highlights: Colorado football highlights can be obtained through Mark McIntosh or Mark Baker of KCNC-TV in Denver (303/830-6321), or through the CU athletic media relations office (303/492-5626).

Weekly Releases: Colorado's weekly news release will be available through a FAX network that is now being utilized by most major conferences. Weekly mailings are limited but can be requested, but media members can call one number and access a menu that will provide information on demand. For further details, call the CU Athletic Media Relations office at 303/492-5626.

Big Eight

Monday Coaches Briefing: The Big Eight offers Monday telephonic press conferences throughout the year. Media interested in participating should call the league office at 816/471-5088. Neuheisel is on weekly at 11:05 a.m. mountain time, and the conference runs every Monday from Aug. 28 through Nov. 13.

Video Highlights: The conference offers a satellite highlights package weekly during the season. Details were not finalized at press time, but the service is available every Tuesday from Aug. 29 through Nov. 14. (Trouble number and information: 402/472-2413).

Weekly Releases: All Big Eight schools and the league office will again offer a convenient way to obtain their news releases this year. Through Info-Connection of Atlanta, Ga., releases, statistics, game notes, schedules and other information will be available through a "Fax-on-Demand" Network. This system will allow the media to retrieve information easily and instantaneously, rather than delayed via the mail service. Everything can be done through the handset of a FAX machine; as a result, schools and the league office have for the most part eliminated the weekly mailings. To participate, media members can contact the CU Athletic Media Relations office or the Big Eight Conference office at 816/471-5088.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

- Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Athletic Media Relations Office.
- Practices are open during two-a-day sessions but will likely be closed once CU enters the "game week preparatory" phase of the season. When practice is open, the following rules apply:
 - Occasionally, there will be times when certain plays and formations are not to be taped, filmed, photographed or reported. In addition, no microphones at any time can be placed in a position where they can pick up the cadence from the line of scrimmage. Violation of this will result in the revocation of all privileges.
 - Members of the media are not to attempt to talk or interview the players during the daily interview moratorium period (2:15 p.m. through the end of practice). In addition, media members are to be on the sidelines only and are not to be in the end zones or on the playing field at any practice (either in the stadium or on the lower grass practice fields).
 - Live television shots must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations Office and the Head Coach in advance.
- The following are times when football players may be interviewed (in season):

9:00 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday After Practice Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday (—2:00 p.m. after return to standard time)

The cutoff point for player interviews is 2:00 p.m. the Thursday prior to the game. Any exceptions must be approved by the Head Coach (including any interviews on the road: newspaper, radio or television). Coaches are available for interviews Monday through Friday noon, then afterwards at their discretion. All are available following games. Television interviews can take place between 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. and following practice. Photographers are allowed to shoot practice footage, as long as they follow the guidelines of 2A above.

No posed pictures (either for newspapers or television) are to be taken between 2:00 p.m. and the end of practice.

 - Exceptions to any of the above must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations Office and the Head Coach. Exceptions will be limited; one is the filming of head shots and brief interviews for national, regional or local television games (usually required the Friday before the game).
- The lockerroom will be closed to the media during preseason practice, game week and spring football. It will be open following all games and scrimmages. When the lockerroom is closed, nearby meeting rooms and hallways are utilized for interviews.
 - A member of the AMR Office will be on hand to help arrange interviews following practice. Members of the media are to advise the AMR Office that they will need to conduct interviews following practice (same-day notification at practice is fine).
- The training room, the equipment room and the weight room are AT ALL TIMES off-limits to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested; approval must be sought in advance from the AMR Office and the proper department head.
- The Head Coach will hold a Monday Noon press luncheon to discuss the previous Saturday's game and the upcoming week's game. He can also be heard on a pair of conference calls (Mondays at 11:05 a.m. MT on the Big Eight Conference call-in, and Tuesdays at Noon MT on the Big Four Huddle call-in). The opponent coach is also available at the Big Four Huddle session.
- Sunday is the standard day off for players and coaches. Any requests of their time on Sunday will be handled on an individual basis through the AMR Office.
- Road practices are open only to members of the media which cover CU on a regular basis, as well as any members of the national media. The Head Coach is available for interviews with opponent media based on his personal discretion, as is their admittance to any road practice.
- It is the request of the University of Colorado football program that players are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player himself or through the director of media relations. Even though most phone numbers are generally listed in directory information, players are allowed to decline interviews when they have been reached at home when an interview has not been approved.

DENVER-BOULDER METRO AREA FACTS

- The Denver-Boulder metropolitan area is the 22nd largest (1.85 million) in the United States, according to the population statistics in the 1990 census. Denver is the 26th largest city in the census, with a population of 468,000.
- Denver, located just 25 miles southeast of the University of Colorado-Boulder campus, is the largest city in the Big Eight Conference area. Oklahoma City is 29th in the country, followed by Kansas City (31st) and St. Louis (34th) in the top 40.
- Boulder is not classified as a suburb of Denver; it's nestled in its own valley at the foothills of the rugged Rocky Mountains. Thus, CU students and employees can live and work with the knowledge that they're in the unique situation of being "close to a big city, yet far enough away."
- Called the "Mile High City" because it is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level, Denver's central location in the United States provides convenient access for the entire country. Denver International Airport is the fourth busiest airport in the country, serving almost 200 U.S. cities and over two dozen foreign countries.
- Denver boasts four major league teams: the Broncos in the NFL, the Nuggets in the NBA, the Colorado Rockies in the National League (baseball), and the NHL team moving to Denver this fall from Quebec. There are only two other colleges in addition to the University of Colorado that are unique in the fact that they are not located within a city, yet have four major league teams for their liking within a 25-mile drive.
- Boulder is a sports-oriented town, and was named the No. 1 outdoor sports town by Outdoor Magazine in 1990. It is home of the Bolder Boulder, the second largest 10K race in the nation (with over 35,000 runners and walkers every Memorial Day). Boulder is also the home and training ground for several of the world's Olympic-class athletes.

- As for the climate, there are over 320 days of sunshine annually in Colorado. It is not unusual to often have 60 and 70 degree days occasionally during the winter months, and the humidity hovers at a low percentage virtually year 'round. The large snowfalls are usually confined to the mountain areas, providing the base for the dozens of Colorado ski resorts and its number one economic resource.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

On February 25, 1994, the Big 12 Conference became a reality when Baylor, Texas A&M, Texas Tech and Texas joined Big Eight Conference institutions Iowa State, Kansas State, Oklahoma State, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma to pursue common academic and athletic endeavors.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in the classroom and on the field of competition. In total, league institutions have received numerous accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, the Big 12 Conference has accounted for more than 130 NCAA team championships and 14 wire service football titles, while its student-athletes have claimed more than 750 NCAA crowns entering the 1995-96 academic year. The formation of a new Conference represents an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve even higher levels of performance.

Institution chancellors and presidents will serve as the chief policy-makers of the Conference, operating as the Council of Chief Executive Officers. Administration of the league will occur through the Faculty Athletics Representatives, Athletics Directors and Senior Woman Administrators.

Steve Hatchell was appointed the league's commissioner March 26, 1995, and assumed his duties on July 1, 1995. Although administrative meetings have been conducted since the Conference was announced, formal operations actually begin July 1, 1996. Hatchell has extensive ties to the league as he has served the past two years as commissioner of the Southwest Conference. His association with the current membership of the Big Eight began in the early 1970s as he worked in the athletic department at Colorado, his alma mater. He later went on to serve as Service Bureau Director/Associate/Interim Commissioner of the Big Eight from 1977 to 1983, working under Commissioners Chuck Neinas and Carl James. His tenure at the Southwestern Conference was preceded by a stint as Metro Conference Commissioner (1983-87) and Executive Director of the Orange Bowl.

"The future will provide for some exciting and rewarding experiences for the Conference," Hatchell said. "The Big 12 has an opportunity to be the preeminent Conference.

With the added power that the Big Eight will have with the four schools coming in, it will allow them to provide the leadership for the NCAA."

Certainly few leagues will be able to parallel the quality of Big 12 football when competition begins in the fall of 1996. Recent history reveals a staggering level of success, both on a team and individual basis.

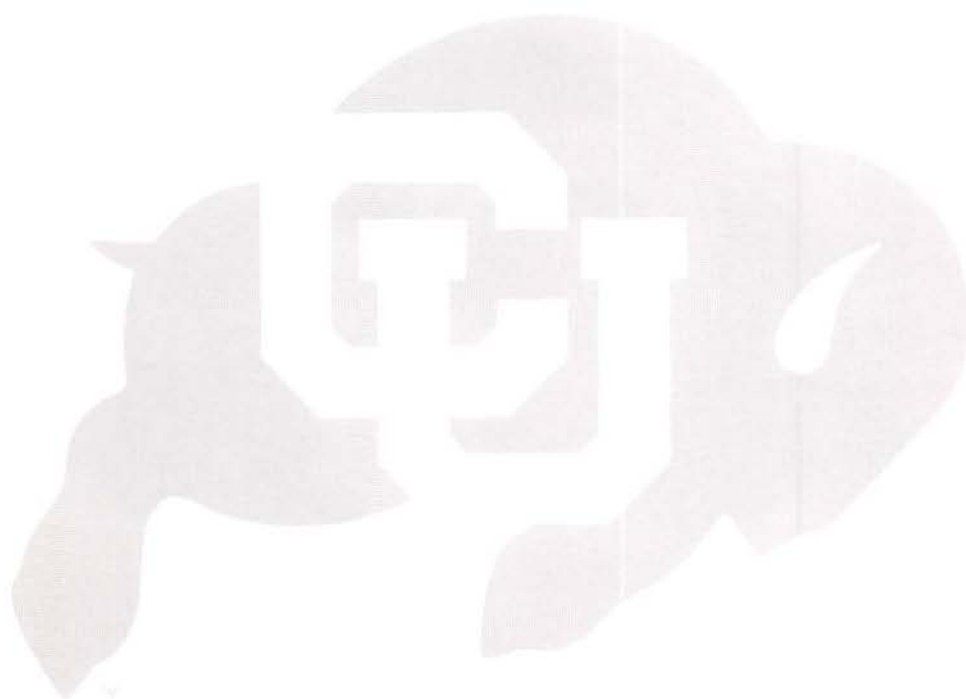

- In the final 1994 Associated Press poll, five teams were rated including national champion Nebraska, Colorado (No. 3), Texas A&M (No. 8), Kansas State (No. 19), and Texas (No. 25). Only the Southeastern Conference had as many teams listed.

- The 1994 campaign saw seven teams earn bowl bids including Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas State, Texas, Baylor, Texas Tech and Oklahoma. No other conference secured as many bowl bids. Nebraska's 1994 national championship gave Big 12 institutions 14 final poll No. 1 rankings in either the media or coaches voting, including Colorado's 1990 title.

- The 1994 Heisman Trophy award to Colorado running back Rashaan Salaam affords the Big 12 nine such honorees. CU defensive back Chris Hudson added to the 1994 hardware haul as his pick as the Thorpe Award designee raises the Big 12 total to four.

- A total of 11 different football student-athletes from Big 12 institutions earned first-team All-America honors by one of the officially recognized honor organizations, including three Buffaloes (TB Rashaan Salaam, WR Michael Westbrook, and CB Chris Hudson).
